ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I offer my prayers in all humility to God Almighty for his blessings all along this academic journey. I express my sincere gratitude to my esteemed guide Prof. B. S. Dahiya, Professor Emeritus, Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, MMU, Mullana and former V. C., Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra. His unparalleled erudition, insightful intellects and unassuming humility has been a constant source of inspiration for me. I am deeply indebted to him for giving me this opportunity to explore the world of literature under his guidance and mentoring. But for his inspiration and encouragement, this thesis would not have seen the light of the day.

I also wish to extend my sincere thanks to Dr. Deepak Gupta and Dr. Tanu Gupta from the Department of Humanities, MMU, Mullana for their help. I take this opportunity to thank my teacher and mentor, Prof. N. K. Kalia, S. C. D Government College for Boys, Ludhiana for introducing me to the fathomless world of literature. My heartfelt gratitude is due to my elder sister Mrs. Bindu Bali, for embarking on this long and arduous journey with me as a companion, scholar and critic. Without her emotional and intellectual support, I wouldn't have accomplished this task.

Words elude me to express my deepest gratitude to my dear husband Mr. Ajay Nag for his unmitigated support and constant motivation. A special appreciation is due to my loving daughters Anika and Archita for their consistent and unwavering co-operation. I value their adoration and the sacrifices they made for enabling me to pay undivided attention to my study.

I offer my sincere thanks to my parents-in-law, Mr. R. P Nag and Mrs. Lalita Nag for their blessings and unconditional support during this period.

I dedicate this thesis to my parents, Mr. P. K. Bali and Mrs. Indra Bali, for instilling in me the values of discipline, industriousness and perseverance which enabled me to accomplish this task despite all odds. Without their love, blessings and encouragement, this onerous task would not have been possible.
