Acknowledgements

This work is a reflection of the rays of clemency emitted from the Almighty. Words feel short in evaluating this benison in each and every aspect of my life. At this junction my head bows down at his feet with a holy passion.

No words can adequately express my gratitude and respect towards my Guide Prof. Dr. S. J. Surana, Principal, R. C. Patel Institute of Pharmaceutical Education and Research, Shirpur, for his guidance, invaluable advice, encouragement and support throughout the course of my research work. I shall always be indebted for the knowledge and skills, which I could imbibe from him.

Special thanks are also given to Prof. Dr. A. U. Tatiya and Dr. R. B. Jadhav. Their encouragement and help made me feel confident to fulfil my desire and to overcome every difficulty I encountered. At the last stage of my dissertation, Prof. Dr. A. U. Tatiya helped me to correct grammar mistakes in my dissertation, and suggested possible improvements. It is not sufficient to express my gratitude with only a few words.

I also appreciate the advice of the research committee members, Prof. Dr. S. B. Bari, Prof. Dr. P. H. Patil, Prof. Dr. A. A. Shirkhedkar, Prof. Dr. C. R. Patil and Prof. Dr. H. S. Mahajan for their critical comments, which enabled me to notice the weaknesses of my dissertation and make the necessary improvements accordingly.

During my research, Dr. R. D. Deshmukh, HOD, Pharmacology, ISF college of Pharmacy, Moga, Panjab offered me a lot of friendly help; he transferred to me his research links and suggested me the necessary readings for pursuing Ph.D. Our conversations enlightened my way of thinking, and so I’d like to give my sincere thanks to for his generous help. I would like to express my appreciation to Mr. Pankaj Jain, Mr. Prasad
Jamkhande and Vivek Kuamwat who have offered me their time in pharmacological studies.

There are two people I need to mention especially, Prof. V. K. Redasani and Mr. D. B. Sanghai, Research scholar, MCOPS, Manipal, their friendship and unselfish help enabled me to present my dissertation more fluently and clearly in English.

I would like to express my appreciation to all persons who have offered me their time, Mr. S. S. Chalikwar, Mrs V. S. Kulkarni, Dr. Nagesh Tour, Drs. C. R. Pawar, Mr. K. M. Agarwal Mr. G. G. Tapadiya, Mr. M. V. Girase Mr. N. A. Mail, Mr. Dipak Salukhe, Mr. Dipak Jadhav and fellow colleague.

My sincere thanks go to the organizations, for offering me an ideal environment in which I felt free, could concentrate on my research and complete the Ph.D. project successfully. There are so many friends, in and outside of institute, who offered me so much kindly help. I give my sincere thanks to all these people.

I am very grateful for my parents. Their understanding and love encouraged me to work hard and do my best. Last but not least, I am greatly indebted to my wife Dr. Archana Kalaskar and my daughter Anvita. They are the backbone and origin of my happiness. Their love and support without any complaint or regret has enabled me to complete this Ph.D. research. I owe my every achievement to both of them.

Kalaskar Mohan G.
