ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the onset I express my deep sense of gratitude to the almighty God, without whose grace this work could not have been completed. I further wish to extend this gratitude to my parents, Dr. S. K. Gupta and Dr. Amrita Gupta who supported me and shared my family responsibilities including taking care of my son during this entire exercise of doing this research. Besides their blessings, which were constantly with me, their support in many other forms provided me the needed boost to carry on with my work. Without them this work could not have reached its completion. My heartiest thanks to my husband, Meetpal Singh Gandhi who never expressed discontent for the time I did not spend with him but worked on my thesis. His words of appreciation, encouragement and support helped me concentrate on this work. I thank my parent – in- laws, Dr. R. S. Gandhi and Mrs. Parminder Kaur Gandhi who constantly encouraged me with love and care to carry on with my work.

I express my gratefulness to my mentor and friend Prof. R. K. Mittal, Dean. University School of Management Studies, Guru Gobind Singh Indraprastha University, who provided me with all support, help and motivation to carry out this research. I thank him for all the time he spent in guiding me despite his busy schedule and responsibilities. His help, encouragement, motivation have an invaluable contribution in the completion of this thesis.

I thank my guide and research supervisor, Prof. Mirza Saiyadain, who put the idea of this research into my mind and guided me from scratch, enlightened me with various aspects of research. The field was completely unknown to me when I started and the light of knowledge through was lit and guided by Prof. Saiyadain to explore this dark tunnel and reach the other end. His wishes support and blessings have helped me reach this milestone.
I thank Prof. Imran Saleem, Dean and head of Department of Management Studies, Faculty of Management Studies and Information Technology, Jamia Hamdard for facilitating the process of our research work and supporting us in every way, without which this work would have been incomplete.

I thank Prof. Himanshu Rai, Indian Institute of Management, Lucknow for helping me in collection of research papers for literature review, data analysis and in understanding of the statistical methods used for research.

During the different stages of my research work I interacted with various colleagues, friends in the academic circle, bank officials, customers and library personnel for data collection, analysis and compilation of my thesis. I thank all those people for their cooperation.

My son, Karan deserves special thanks for all the time he gave me to do this research work. I missed playing with him at times and could not be with him when he wanted but his love and wishes helped me in completing this thesis. It was painful at times for not being able to spend adequate time with him, but his smile and hug were encouraging enough to carry on with this work and complete it. My heartiest thanks to my brother, Gaurav Gupta and brother in law, Kavaljit Singh Gandhi for their wishes and love.
