ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am deeply grateful to my guide Dr. R. K. Dave, Department of Economics, Gujarat University for guiding me in my present research work. His constant encouragement made me to work tirelessly with an exclusive goal of the completion of my work. Further, he made himself readily available for consultation and discussion and for that reason only, I could complete my work within reasonable time limit.

I owe my sincere thanks to Dr. R. J. Mody, Director, Sardar Patel Institute of Economic and Social Research for giving me all necessary facilities in the institute for the furtherance of my research. I am also thankful to Prof. N. C. Shah, Associate Professor, Sardar Patel Institute of Economic and Social Research for guiding me in the statistical analysis. Further, I thank all the senior faculty members and colleagues of Sardar Patel Institute of Economic and Social Research for showing concern in the completion of my work.

I am thankful to Prof. V. P. Bharadwaj, Professor and Head, Department of Economics, Gujarat University for making valuable suggestions to introduce qualitative improvements in the study. I also thank my teachers especially Dr. C. H. Thaker and Prof. P. C. Vora of the Department of Economics, Gujarat University who have shown positive interest in the completion of my work. I owe my sincere thanks to Shri D. S. Parmar of Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad for taking keen interest in the last stages of my work.

In spite of the help and guidance of the learned professors referred above, the limitations of the present study are my own.

I cannot forget my senior friend Smt. Manjulaben Naik who has given me inspiration throughout the period of my research work. I shall be failing in my duty, if I do not express my thanks to my parents who have given me constant encouragement and moral support in my research work.

ANITA ARYA