ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The present study was undertaken under the supervision of Professor Charan D. Wadhwa, Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad. I am deeply indebted to him for his invaluable guidance and keen interest, without which, this work would not have taken the present shape. At every stage of my work, I have been immensely benefitted from his suggestions and criticisms.

I owe a debt of gratitude to Professor K.L. Krishna, Delhi School of Economics, University of Delhi, Delhi, who was instrumental in initiating me to the field of Economics. At the same time, I am indebted to Professor B.D. Sharma, Department of Mathematics, University of Delhi, Delhi, with whose good wishes I ventured to switch over from Mathematics to Economics.

I would like to express my deep gratitude to Dr. Raja Chelliah, Member, Planning Commission, Government of India, and former Director, National Institute of Public Finance and Policy (NIPFP), New Delhi, Dr. A. Dagchi, the present Director, NIPFP, and Dr. Shankar Acharya, Economic Adviser, Ministry of Finance, Government of India, New Delhi, without whose kind help and encouragement, I could not have managed to complete the present study in time.

I owe a debt of gratitude to Professor Mahesh Bhatt, Director, University School of Social Sciences, Gujarat University, Ahmedabad for his invaluable help and encouragement in my endeavour during my tenure as Lecturer in Economics at this department.
I am greatly benefitted from Mr. C. S. R. Murty, Statistician, Physical Research Laboratory (PRL), Ahmedabad, who has always been a source of encouragement and a useful guide to me in solving the statistical problems relating to the survey data used in this study.

I am indebted to Mr. D. K. Nair, Senior Director, Apparel Export Promotion Council, New Delhi for allowing me to use the data from their Unpublished Computer Listings for selected sample of garment exporters included in this study. Thanks are also due to Mr. D. G. Reddy, Deputy Director who helped me in selection of sample units. I am also grateful to all garment exporters who participated in the questionnaire-cum-personal interviews and allowed me to use the company level data in this study.

The financial assistance provided by the Indian Council of Social Sciences Research (ICSSR), New Delhi is gratefully acknowledged. The ICSSR contingency grant was of great help to me to partly meet the expenditures incurred on field visits, collection of data and computer processing required in this study.

Thanks are due to the authorities of IIM, PRL and NIPFP for extending computer facilities. In particular I am thankful to Mr. Chandrasekhar, Mr. Atri, Mr. Helen, Mr. Subrahmanym and Mrs. Geeta Bhatnagar for their invaluable help in designing computer programmes and processing the data as desired.

I express my gratitude to my colleagues at NIPFP for suggesting improvements in my work in the Research Seminars in which, parts of my thesis were presented.
In particular I am thankful to Dr. Srinivasa Madhur, Dr. M. Govinda Rao, Mr. J. V. M. Sarma and Dr. Tapas Sen for their useful suggestions.

I am also grateful to Mr. Cecil of NIPFP and Mr. Seshadri of IIM for their help in editing some parts of the draft of my thesis.

A number of friends have helped in data compilation, preparation of statistical tables and the verification of typed draft. In particular, my thanks are due to Mr. C.V. Raghupati Rao, Mr. C.S. Kameswara Rao, Mr. Seshu, Mr. Rajesh and Mr. Rangarajan.

Mr. K. Venkatraman has provided me an excellent typing assistance in presenting the final draft in time, which is gratefully acknowledged.

I wish to thank Mani, my wife and Anju, my daughter, whose cheerfulness has always been a constant source of encouragement to me, and provided a booster to my work in completing it within time. Finally, I place on record my indebtedness to my parents without whose blessings this work would not have taken the present shape.
