ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis was started under the inspiration and guidance of Shri L. R. Desai, then Principal of the A. G. Teachers College, Ahmedabad, and now Vice-Chancellor of the Gujarat University. To him the author wishes to express his most sincere gratitude.

Heartfelt thanks are also due to Dr. K. G. Desai, at present Principal of the A. G. Teachers College, who from the inception of the work showed keen interest and gave valuable suggestions and under whom the thesis was finally completed.

The author is also indebted to the Registrar of the Gujarat University, Shri K. Parikh for placing at his disposal the University Examination Records; to the Principals of the various Arts and Commerce colleges of Ahmedabad for extending their assistance and finally to the students who, with their cooperation, made possible the gathering of the data compiled in the thesis.
