ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It gives me a sense of satisfaction to thank all those who have helped me to accomplish this task.

Words cannot convey my gratitude to Dr. T.V. Rao, Professor, Organisational Behaviour Area, Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad. It is my good fortune to do my Ph.D. work under his guidance. His missionary attitude towards my progress helped me to cross several hurdles and finally to come to this stage.

My thanks are due to the personnel of all agencies who tried their best to furnish the information required by me, all the respondents who spared time to fill-up and send my questionnaires and inventories, and the entrepreneurs who were kind enough to sit with me and share their experiences for several hours in the depth interviews.

I thank Prof. N.R. Sheth, Ex-Director, Prof. D.M. Pestonjee, Prof. J.P. Singh, Prof. N. Ravichandran and Prof. Khandwalla of the Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad for their interest in my studies and for offering valuable suggestions. I also thank Dr. V.G. Patel, Director, Entrepreneurship Development Institute of India, Ahmedabad, Dr. M.M.P. Akhourie, Director, The National Institute of Entrepreneurship and Small Business Development, New Delhi, Mr. M.S. Nadkarni, Director, National Institute of Motivation and Institutional Development, Bombay, Prof. P. Deivasenapathy, Reader, Department of Psychology, University of Madras, Mr. S. Ganesh, Deputy General Manager, IDBI and Mr. C. Thyagarajan, Deputy General Manager, SIDBI, Madras for their kind help in times of my need.

I express my gratitude to Fr. S. Xavier Alphonse, Director - Hostel, Loyola College, Madras who provided me a peaceful environment to stay and read whenever I knocked his door with a request.

I express my heartfelt thanks to Mr. W. S. Gopalakrishnan, Managing Director, Madras Softwares Pvt. Ltd., who contributed a lot for my studies by working for endless hours in processing the data and getting the thesis in black and white. He motivated me when I needed and strengthened me by his brotherly care and friendly advice.

I thank all my family and friends who shared the labour of sending the questionnaires in time and processing the relevant qualitative information.

My thanks are due to Dr. R. Kanagasabapathy, Principal, Aditanar College and Mr. N. Krishna Iyer, the Secretary for establishing an environment for academic progress of the teachers of which I am a beneficiary. I thank my teachers Profs. Joseph Rayappan, F. L. Rodrigo, K. Vallinayagam and the teachers in the Department of Business Administration, Aditanar College, Trichendur and Dr. M. Thiagarajan,
Dean Management Studies, Pondicherry University, for their concern for me.

I thank Mr. B. Sivanthi Adityan, Chairman, Aditanar College Committee, for his parental care.

Finally I thank the Almighty for introducing noble people to me and I pray for the well being of all of them.

P. Selvaraj