I have no words to express my gratitude to Prof. N. R. Sheth. From the beginning till the end, he has stimulated, supervised and helped me in the study. I have learnt a lot as a researcher by working under his guidance.

I am indebted to the activists and members of the unions included in this study. But for their cooperation, this work could not have materialized. They were free, frank in responding to my questions at the interviews, although many questions were ticklish and of personal nature. The activists accepted me as one of them and allowed me entry into their organizations. They often went through personal inconvenience to help me with my work.

I thank the management functionaries at the three banks for their permission and help.

Usha Kanhere.
