ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In all humility and gratitude, I wish to acknowledge and record my appreciation for the support and goodwill I have received from others in doing this work.

In the first place, I express my deep gratefulness to my guide Prof. Y.K. Alagh who gave me immensely valuable guidance during this whole work. Despite his pressing engagements, he truly remained a guiding spirit behind my efforts and patiently led me on to perseverance and hard work and enabled me in clarifying the concepts, acquiring the perception and evolving the techniques for my study.

Prof. D.T. Lakdawala showed frequent interest in my work and his goodwill inspired me time and again.

I was fortunate to receive enlightened encouragement from my senior colleagues in Sardar Patel Institute of Economic and Social Research especially from Prof. S.P. Kashyap, who was readily available for discussing problems I encountered, as also from Prof. K.K. Subrahmanian, Prof. R.J. Mody, Prof. R. Radhakrishna, Dr. P.G. Pathak and Prof. M.S. Trivedi. I am thankful to Prof. G.V.S.N. Murty for his support.
in solving methodological problems.

I record my appreciation for the timely computer programming aid given by Mrs. Sukumari Murty, Mr. N.C. Shah and Mr. Y.V. Pantulu. Again, for friendly encouragement and assistance, I am grateful to Miss Anita Shah, Miss Chetan Trivedi, Mr. Dinesh Awasthi, Miss Smriti Acharya, Mr. Narendra Bhusri, Mr. Dilip Parikh and other colleagues of the Institute. I also duly acknowledge the assistance received from the colleagues on Administration side, in particular from Mr. Hasmukhbhai Pathak and Mrs. Anita Patel for Library help and Mr. K.J. Pathak, Mr. B.C. Dave and Mr. K.P. Satheesan for administrative assistance and Mr. T. Prabhakaran, Mr. P.A. Patel and Mr. M.C. Madhavan for typing.

From outside the Institute, I do acknowledge the support received from the Bureau of Economics and Statistics of the Government of Gujarat, especially as regards data collection and from libraries of Indian Institute of Management and of Gujarat University. I record my appreciation for Mr. Pramodhbhai S. Shah, Secretary, ACC-Vickers Bombay, for helping me in having access to the latest data. Shri Lalubhai Patel, the Artist was kind enough to help me in my figure work and in graphical work.
In the end, I cannot forget to place on record my profound indebtedness to my revered parents and other members of my family and in particular my elder brother Shri Dineshbhai Shah who gave me all the encouragement I needed in doing my work.

I earnestly hope that my present work justifies the support and goodwill I enjoyed from all these well-wishing sources. I can't be overstressed that I am alone responsible for what has been presented in this study made by me.

9th July 81

Jayshree Shah
JAYSHREE SHAH