ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The investigator takes an opportunity to express his sense of gratitude to all who helped him in this work.

First he wishes to acknowledge his indebtedness to his guide, Shri S. K. Rakhe, the professor, University School of Psychology, Education and Philosophy, Ahmedabad, for his able guidance and valuable suggestions. He has taken keen interest in going through, most critically, each line of the present work.

The investigator is also grateful to Shri K. G. Desai, Ex-Director, University School of Psychology, Education and Philosophy, Gujarat University, Ahmedabad, for inspiration, encouragement and guidance in minute problems of the study, review work of tests and going through some work of this study.

The investigator's gratitude is also due to Shri M. R. Goswami, the Principal, Municipal Arts and Commerce College, Kheralu; Mrs. J. A. Patel, the Lecturer, A. G. Teachers' College, Ahmedabad, and Mrs. Indira Chaudhary, the Senior English teacher, Sarvajanik High School, Mehsana, who spared no pain in review work of the test items and for enlightening the investigator on certain problems.

He is also thankful to Shri E. A. Ghanchi, Pro-vice Chancellor, Uttar Gujarat University, Patan; Shri Giraben Kotsk, a reader, Gujarat Vichyapeeth, Ahmedabad.
The librarians of Gujarat University, Ahmedabad; Vivekanand College of Education, Mehsana; Arts and Science College, Mehsana and NCERT, Delhi deserve his gratitude for providing all possible help of books. It should be honestly acknowledged that the work was rendered lighter by the facilities received from them.

It is virtually impossible for the investigator to express his most sincere thanks to all those who have been of help to him.

Gratitude is also due to all the authors and publishers of books and journals from whose publications excerpts have been drawn.

R. G. Prajapati