ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Many people from the work and home setting have helped me for the completion of this research. The author wishes to acknowledge their help. First of all, I wish to express my deep sense of appreciation and gratitude to Professor Pulin K Garg for his immense support, help and guidance.

The author wishes to thank many of her colleagues at the Institute. The author is grateful to Professor Samuel Paul, the ex-Director of Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad, and Professor Vijay Vyas, the present Director for providing the institutional facilities and time for the completion of this research. Professors N.R. Sheth, Udai Pareek, T.V. Rao, P.M. Shingi and T K Moulik have helped with suggestions. The author is also thankful to Professors D. Tripathi and C. Rangarajan for their support and encouragement. Thanks are also due to Professor S. Sreenivas Rao, Manager (Publications) for providing the administrative help.

The author wishes to thank Mr. C.R.S. Murthy and Mr. Rajiv Desai of Physical Research Laboratory and Miss Rita Desai of the Institute for the help in computerization of the data. Miss Yasmin Kureshi has helped in innumerable ways which has facilitated this research.
Mr. N.V. Subrahmanyam and Mr. R. Venkatesan have provided excellent and timely help in the preparation of the several drafts of the manuscript. The author is thankful to them.

Besides the above people in the work setting are people in home setting who have helped in various other ways. Mrs. Nalini Garg has accepted the impingement of this research at home when the author has taken time of her husband Professor Pulin K Garg. My mother-in-law, Mrs. Kusumben Parikh has taken the responsibility of running my home during the last few months of my involvement with this research. In the earlier phase, my aunt, Miss Shantaben Varma gave emotional support. My son, Sushrut Parikh accepted my commitment and priority in terms of my time and attention to the completion of this research. He, with his smiles, has helped me to come out of despair when the stress of the task has become quite intense. But above all I would like to express my appreciation to my husband Jitendra for his patience and support in all phases of carrying out this research.
