This research owes its continuance and completion to the tremendous support and guidance of my research guide Dr. Uday Pareek, Chairman, Faculty of Organisation Behaviour, Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad. It is difficult to convey in written words the encouragement received from him at every stage of the study. My thanks to him is infinite.

Besides my main research guide, another person stands out for the invaluable assistance provided at various stages, viz. Dr. T.V. Rao of the Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad.

The research owes its origin to Dr. Elcise Cralho, who was responsible for initiating the Study by raising the issue at the Priest Senate. However, the research was made possible due to Co-Adjutor Archbishop Simon Pimenta who permitted, supported and actively participated in the framing of the questionnaire along with other members of the Personnel Commission. The other members of the Personnel Commission gave off valuable time at various sittings in modifying the questionnaire. Our thanks to them are immense. But for them this Study would not be possible.
Immense thanks are also due to Dr. Douglas T. Hall and Dr. Benjamin Schneider who, apart from granting their questionnaire, were both very willingly answered some of my queries, even though separated by space and distance.

Thanks are due to Ms. Patricia C. Smith who readily gave us the permission to use the Job Description Index.

Thanks are also due to Andrew Greeley of FONC for sharing data on the American Diocesan Priests.

I would like to also single out two special persons for the Data-Processing work, Mr. L.D. Parulekar of Larsen & Toubro Limited and Mr. Dalpat Sarupria from Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad. Without their valuable assistance the statistical compilation would not have been achieved.

I am also grateful to Mr. T.S. Lezhminaravan for his care in typing the dissertation.