ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is an unambiguous fact that writing of an acknowledgment is considered to be just traditional formality.

Words like compassion, decency, modesty and conscience have now blighted. These flimsy, fluffy words are now flickering in the wind of selfishness. Everyone in this fast running world wants to go ahead to achieve fame and name on the dead body of his fellowmen.

First and foremost I would like to unequivocally acknowledge all those who have directly or indirectly contributed to this thesis in their own respect. Despite the fret and fear that I have I express my profound, heartfelt and affectionate gratitude to all those from whom I sought any type of help for the accomplishment of this arduous task.

I express my heartfelt gratitude to my esteemed guide, Dr. L.B. George, Associate Professor, Department of Zoology and BMT, School of Sciences, for accepting me as his research scholar. I am indeed indebted to him for his valuable suggestions and enthusiasm which have helped me to complete this piece of work. The knowledge and skills that I have garnered will be carried with me throughout my scientific career I tender my sincerest thanks to him once again.

I am extremely grateful to Dr. C.R. Pillai, Emeritus scientist, NIMR New Delhi, for his kind support, valuable suggestions and genuine encouragement, which helped me in completing my research work.

I take this opportunity to pay my high tribute to (Late) Dr. U. M. Raval, Emeritus Scientist, PERD Research Center, Ahmedabad, who devoted his whole life in the field of research.
I gratefully acknowledge INTAS PHARMACEUTICALS, for providing me financial assistance in the form of a collaboratory project of industry and university during the course of my study.

With immense pleasure and gratitude I acknowledge Dr. M. V. Rao, Professor and Head, Department of Zoology, Dr. H. N. Highland, Dr. K. R. Desai, Dr. Y.T. Jasrai and Dr. N. K. Jain, for enlightening me throughout my research work.

I take this opportunity to present my sincere thanks and gratitude to all my colleagues and friends Dr. Jignasa Dattani, Dr. Neha Sangai, Dhrupasinh Rajput, Krupa Shah and Khanjan Vaishnav, for their encouragement and timely help which enabled me in completing this work.

I extend my thanks to my Lab colleagues for their co-operation, love and help at every stage of my work. At this point I take this opportunity to thank the entire staff of Department of Zoology, and staff of Parasite bank of NIMR, New Delhi for all the help that was rendered.

I thankfully acknowledge Dr. Dilip Shah, Green Cross Pathology laboratory, Maninagar, Ahmedabad, Ankit Patel (Patho.) Laxmi Pathologies, Red Cross Pathology, Supratech Pathology Laboratory, Gujarat University Health Center and Mahakant Pathology for helping me in various blood related work during my whole research.

I owe a great debt of gratitude to my respected, generous and loving family members, who instilled a love for education, joy of seeking knowledge and the value of being organized. I shall ever be highly grateful for their precious suggestions constant care, encouragement, prayers, patience, appreciate assistance and infinite support throughout my work.
Last but not the least, my sincere thanks are tendered to a great number of unmentioned friends, dear and near ones and well wishers for all the care, encouragement and moral support but for which my research work would not have been possible.

Deval S. Mehta