Acknowledgement

This thesis is the zenith of my journey in obtaining my Ph.D. The thesis has been kept on track and been seen through to completion with the support and encouragement of numerous people that include my colleagues, friends and well-wishers. At the end of my Ph.D. tenure, I would like to take the opportunity to thank all those people who made this thesis possible and unforgettable experience for me. It is a pleasant task to express my gratitude to all those who contributed in many ways. I sincerely apologize for my inability to acknowledge many of them, because of lack of space.

First and foremost, I bow in front of Almighty who in his supreme graciousness has conferred me with the strength and courage to carry out my research work successfully.

I would like to express my sincerest gratitude towards my supervisor Dr. Suvendra Kumar Ray, for his unmatched guidance, scholarly inputs and consistent encouragement that I have received throughout the research work. Under his guidance, I successfully overcame many difficulties and learned a lot. His scientific wisdom and uncommon thoughts has made him a continuous source of novel ideas which inspired and enriched my growth as a student and a researcher. He always kept faith in me and provided the right direction whenever I needed it the most. Whenever I turned to him with my ideas, he listened patiently and encouraged me with his valuable inputs to bring the best out of me. At the same time, his constructive criticism and constant vigilance inspired me to perform me better. He always boosted me up and set my spirits high whenever I had a hard time with experiments. My deep gratitude goes to him for all his dedication and steadiness during the writing or the thesis. I whole-heartedly thank him for everything.

I would like to thank my Co-supervisor Dr. Gopaljee Jha for his constant guidance, support, critical comments. He always inspired me with his scientific knowledge and allowed me to use all the facilities in his laboratory at IHBT, Palampur, Himachal Pradesh.

I would like to thank my Doctoral Committee members, Dr. Manabendra Mandal, Prof. Shashi Baruah and Dr. Gopaljee Jha for their instant response whenever I approach them with my queries.
I sincerely acknowledge and express my genuine sense of gratefulness to Tezpur University and the Department of Molecular Biology and Biotechnology for giving me the opportunity to pursue my Ph.D. and also the faculty members of the department who always supported and guided me whenever I approached them. I must also acknowledge the technical staff of the department, Mr. S. Kakati, Mr. P. Mudoi, Dr. N. K. Bordoloi, Pranab da, Deepak da for their constant technical supports.

I convey my earnest thankfulness to Mr. Christian Boucher, Dr. Stephane Genin, Dr. Nemo Peeters and Dr. Fabienne Vailleau for their immense hospitality during my visit to France and also for their intellectual contribution to my work. I would like to convey a special note of thanks to Dr. Nemo Peeters for the statistical analysis of the infection data included in my thesis.

I find myself privileged for getting the opportunity to work in the laboratory of Dr. Ramesh V. Sonti, CCMB, Hyderabad. It was a very valuable experience and helped me build up my skills in practical works. He is terrifically interactive and his suggestions worked miracles at times of difficulties.

I also acknowledge the financial support from DBT and CEFIPRA in the forms of Junior Research Fellowships and Senior Research Fellowships.

I would also like to thank to Shammi, Reenu, Karnika, Surbhi and Akanksha for their hospitality and constant support in all aspects all throughout my stay at IHBT and also I convey my gratitude to Alok, Anil, Mahesh and Vishal for their helping hand during my period of stay at CCMB.

No word would be enough for expressing my gratitude towards my lab members for their immense support all throughout my Ph.D. tenure. I am very much thankful to my lab members Anjan Barman, Tarinee Phukan, Niraj Singh, Pankaj Losan Sharma, Rukhsana Aziz, Kristi Kabyashree and Anasuya Bhargav for bringing in the enthusiasm and optimism in me at hard times.

I also thank Mayur, Viveyan, Salam Pradeep, Anupam, Krishna, Lipika, Rupamoni, Sanjukta, Ranjeeta, Anushree, Bhaskar, Debananda, Ajay, Kuldeep, Rupesh, Suvendu, Kamalakshi, Jeetu da, Debasree di, Neelakshi ba and Deepak Jha and his family from Tezpur University for guiding and supporting me in every possible way.

I would also like to convey a note of gratefulness to my friends Madhusudan, Ashish Bhushan, Vinit Raj, Ravi Shankar, Raghwendra, Rohit, Vinita, Anupam (baba), Kamal Kant, Manoj Singh, Pranab and Alok for their belief in me.

A formal statement of acknowledgement will hardly meet the needs of justice in the matter of expression of deeply felt sincere and allegiant gratitude to Mrs. Sindhu Nandini Mohanty. Without her moral support the journey of my Ph.D. tenure would have been difficult. She always backed me up in my bad times. Thank you Ma’am for always being there for me.

Last but not the least, I am deeply indebted towards my Papa, Late Chandrika Pd. Verma and my Mummy, Mrs. Savitri Devi who have always encouraged me to aim high, question things and look at life from all angles. They are great supporters and have unconditionally loved me during my good and bad times. They always encouraged and helped me at every stage of my personal and academic life. I am also thankful to my brothers Manoj bhaiya, Sanjay and sister Rina didi for their motivation and support at all times. My sister-in-law Mrs. Pooja Verma, brother-in-law Mr. Santosh Verma and my nephews Master Ritik and Master Krish also helped me in their own unique ways. Without their love and blessings the successful realization of the thesis would not have been possible.
