ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is my great pleasure to express heartfelt gratitude to my esteemed teacher Dr. Nitin S.Vora MD, DV &D, M.Phil, LL.B (Special), MNAMS for his able guidance, continuous support and encouragement while pursuing this study. Without his immense knowledge, vast experience, precious suggestion and meticulous attention in every detail including the minutest one of the study, this work would not have been completed.

I am beholden to Dr. Samir V.Shah MD(Derm & STD), a well-regarded teacher in Dermatology, B.J.Medical College, Ahmedabad for his kind help in various phases of this study. I am grateful to many of my colleagues from various branches of medical sciences that helped me in reading and translating much important information from medical literatures of different languages. I am also thankful to Mr. Rajib Mukherjee for his kind assistance in computer works.

I would like to pay my regards to my parents and other family members whose active help made this study possible. My special thanks go to my wife Dr.(Mrs.)Debjani Mukherjee BOT, FAGE who helped me in every steps of this work and encouraged me during all difficult situation I faced during this study. In the end I must mention about my son Priyadarshee who excused me for not being able to devote him enough time of his genuine demand.

Ahmedabad,

Dr. Amiya Kumar Mukhopadhyay.
