ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is my pleasure to acknowledge the help and assistance I have received from various persons and institutions in preparing this study. I am grateful to Dr. K.M. Kulkarni, Lecturer, Department of Geography, Gujarat University, Ahmedabad for his invaluable guidance to familiarize me with this field of research and encouragement throughout the course of my investigation. His kind nature and rational attitude has been of immense help. My sincere regards and respects are due to him.

Prof. Ambubhai Desai, who was my teacher, and was the Head of the Department of Geography, H.K. Arts College and is now acting Vice Chancellor of Gujarat University, took interest in my work and buoyed me up from time to time, with his words of encouragement. I acknowledge my debt to respectable professor C.D. Deshpande, eminent professor of Geography and Prof. V.G. Dalal, Head, Department of Geography, L.D. Arts College for going through my questionnaire with a critical eye, and offering me valuable suggestions. I also feel highly indebted to Dr. C.J. Nayak, Principal, H.K. Arts College, whose encouragement has meant a lot to me. I am grateful to Prof. M.R. Shah, Head, Department of Geography, H.K. Arts College and Dr. Anjanaben Desai, Head, Department of Geography, Gujarat University for extending the facilities of the Department to carry out my work.
I acknowledge my debt to Dr. L.S. Bhatt, Professor of Regional Planning, Indian Statistical Institute, New Delhi and Prof. A N Sharma of Indian Statistical Institute, New Delhi, and Prof. V.G. Pandya, Principal, Modasa College for discussing with me, the statistical methods used in the thesis. I also thank Prof. N.C. Vijayraj, Professor and Head, Department of Geography, University of Dharwad and Prof. Bharat L. Bhatt, formerly, Assistant Professor of Geography in the University of Texas at Austin, U.S.A. for going through my research proposal and making some valuable suggestions.

My thanks are also due to the Director, Census Operations, Gujarat; Director of Industries, Gujarat; Director, Bureau of Economics and Statistics, Gujarat; Director, Industrial Extension Bureau; Shri A.K. Shah, Public Relation officer of Industrial Extension Bureau, Gujarat; General Manager, Telecommunications, Gujarat; Post Master General, Gujarat; Managers of various Nationalised Banks for making the required data available to me.

I also acknowledge the assistance rendered to me by Mrs. Niraben Desai, Librarian of K.L. Swadhyay Mandir, Ahmedabad for preparing Bibliography of my thesis. I acknowledge my debt to Mrs. Radhikaben Kulkarni who has gone through my synopsis to make it better and giving me encouragement and warmth during my work. Much of the credit for the neat map work should go to M/s B. Lal, B.J. Modi, R.K. Joshi, J.K. Brahmbhatt, F.F. Shaikh, K.D. Vaishnav, of Census of Gujarat, on account of the assistance given by them in preparing them on the lines I had decided upon and to Shri Somabhai Dholakia of the School of Sciences, Gujarat University, for providing me with good photo copies of the maps.

I also thank the residents and friends who have helped me in filling the questionnaire and giving good company during sample survey. I thank Shri Omprakash Dave of Gopi Printers for doing good printing of my questionnaire. I express my gratitude to Shri Rajesh Purohit of Taran Comprint for his timely assistance in typing the manuscript of this thesis. My sincere thanks are also due to my friends and students who have helped me in the best way they could. My heartfelt gratitude to my dear mother, father, brothers and sisters-in-law without whose warmth and co-operation, it was impossible for me to complete the work.
