ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The subject of Rural Banking has attracted my attention for two reasons; firstly, I happened to be a Bank Officer before I joined Government Service, secondarily due to my interaction, during my field postings, with the Developmental Agencies including Banking Institutions which play a pivotal role in rural development. When I approached him, Prof. G. Raghava Reddy, Special Officer, S.V. University P.G. Centre, Kavali kindly consented to be my Research Supervisor. I am greatly indebted to him for his scholarly advice, meticulous guidance and warm and affectionate treatment. In fact, more than a Research Supervisor, he has been a constant source of inspiration and encouragement to me. He has ensured completion of research work inspite of my exhibiting slackness once in a way due to pressure of work. No words can express my deep sense of gratitude to him and his family members who have been equally affectionate to me and whose encouragement has alone seen the completion of my research work.

I must confess that it would not have been possible for me to take up this research work and complete it without active cooperation and honest and sincere help from various quarters. I place on record my thanks to Kum. Sujatha Rao, IAS., and Mr. Jannat Hussain, IAS who are my Collectors during my stint in Nellore.
district as Joint Collector and Additional District Magistrate. Though the Joint Collector is mostly a regulatory functionary, both these officers entrusted me with developmental work such as cyclone housing project, implementation of community irrigation wells, development of joint farming societies etc. While discharging these responsibilities, I came across various banking institutions and thus developed a deep desire to work on rural banking.

My grateful thanks are due to Pro.K.Munidoraswamy Naidu, S.V.University, Tirupati, and Prof K.V Ramana, Andhra University, Waltair I have derived immense help from Dr.P.Kodanda Ram Reddy, Dr D Krishnamoorthy, and Dr P R.Sivasankar, S V Univeristy P G Centre, Kavali in this regard. I acknowledge their help gratefully.

I would like to place on record my deep sense of appreciation to my colleagues in the service and officers and staff of the District Development Agencies such as District Rural Development Agency (DRDA), District Scheduled Caste Cooperative Society, District Planning Office, Officers of PGB for providing necessary information. In particular I am grateful to the Mandal Development Officers of kovur, Duttalur and Branch Managers of Vavilla and Marripadu for their necessary help and very useful suggestions

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not place on record my gratitude to the respondents of the sample villages without whose willing cooperation and generous hospitality, the study would have been a non starter.

I am also thankful to the teaching and non-teaching staff and research scholars of the Department of Economics, S.V University P G.Centre, Kavali for their help in my research work. My special thanks are due to Sri P. Rav1 Kumar, Sri D. Babu, Sri B. Sreeramulu and Sri B. Ramesh for their wholehearted support at every stage of my research work. My thanks are also due to Mr. Anil Kumar, Jawahar Bharathi, Kavali and Mr. Sk. Md. Mustafa who deserve special mention for his excellent typing assistance. Finally I place on record my deep sense of gratitude to all those who helped me in my research work and yet have not found place in the acknowledgements by name for want of space. However, I alone am responsible for the deficiencies that still remain.
