ACKNOWLEDGMENT

I owe a debt of gratitude to my able Supervisor, Dr. Abdul Quayyum Khan, Faculty Member, Department of Commerce. He has burnt midnight oil in scanning vast material on the subject. The study has gone into all facets of Economic Liberalization and Trends of Foreign Investment in India. My Supervisor has rendered true help to me in hypothesizing the approach, devising the techniques of exposition of parameters and suggestions. The research could not have seen light of the day without his invaluable guidance.
I am thankful to Professor S.M. Waseem, Dean of the Faculty and the Chairman, Department of Commerce. Dr. Waseem took keen interest in the progress of my research project. He is meticulous in record to monitor day-to-day progress of the research scholars in the Department. I thank him again for the facilities that his office has rendered to me in the pursuit of the research work. I am grateful to all the teachers of the Department who have shaped my career, and played key role in my faculty development. They have been kind enough to listen to me patiently about my research problems.

I thank the staff of the Chairman and the Dean's office for secretarial work in handling correspondence and maintaining important records about my research project. Thanks to Mr. Abbas Naqvi, Librarian, Seminar Library of the Department, Mr. Rashid Husain, Maulana Azad Library, AMU Aligarh, Mr. Ali
