Acknowledgement

With immense contentment I take this opportunity to express my profound gratitude and deep regards to my guide Prof. (Dr.) A. P. Thomas, former Director, School of Environmental Sciences, Mahatma Gandhi University, for his whole hearted support and exemplary guidance, monitoring and constant encouragement throughout the course of this thesis. The blessing, help and guidance given by him time to time shall carry me a long way in the journey of life.

I place on record my profound sense of gratitude to Dr. C. T. Aravindakumar, Director, School of Environmental Sciences for his support and consent towards the completion of this work.

I am appreciative to Dr. E. V. Ramasamy, Associate Professor and former Director, School of Environmental Sciences, Mahatma Gandhi University, for his support, intellectual comments and critics and warm regards as my great teacher.

It is my obligation to thank Dr. Sylas V. P. and Dr. Mahesh Mohan, Assistant Professors, School of Environmental Sciences, and Dr. Usha K. Aravind and Dr. G. Christopher, Associate fellows, Advanced Centre of Environmental Studies and Sustainable Development, for their constant help and support.

I cannot forget my late teacher Dr. R. Satheesh, a dynamic personality and before his memory I extend my hearty reverence.

I wish to thank Mr. Salahudhin P. O., former Librarian, Mr. Abubacker, Librarian, Mr. Aravind Padmanabhan (Assistant cum system administrator), Santhosh Kumar K. T. (Lab assistant), and Mr. Subhash T. K. (Field assistant) and all the office staffs in School of Environmental Sciences for their sensible help and support.

This feat was possible only because of the unconditional support provided by all the loving and caring members and friends of School of Environmental Sciences and hence I gratefully acknowledge my appreciation to all.

I thank my family for their constant encouragement without which this task would not be possible.

Above all, I owe it all to Almighty God for granting me the wisdom, health and strength to undertake this research task and enabling me to its completion.
