ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the beginning, I acknowledge, with gratitude and appreciation, my indebtedness to my supervisor Dr Nazibuddin Ahmed, Professor, Department of Mathematics, Gauhati University, Guwahati for his kind and sincere help and able supervision and guidance, which finally enabled me to complete my thesis. He has shown very keen interest in guiding my research work and extended his kind help whenever I needed.

I would always remember the inspiring presence of all respected teachers of the Department of Mathematics, Gauhati University, Guwahati during the preparation of my thesis.

There is no denying of the fact that this work would not have been possible without constant encouragement and help from my parents, my wife Jonali Baishya Das and my son Rituraj Das.

In the end, I express my sincere and heartfelt gratefulness to all those friends and well wishers who have encouraged me throughout by constructive suggestions and appreciation.
