ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

An intellectual debt is too complex an entity to be acknowledged in a brief space. We can only express our gratitude here.

Words are inadequate to express my esteem and deep sense of gratitude to my guide Dr. S. R. Ahlawat, Prof. & Head Department of Sociology, M. D. University, Rohtak for his expert guidance, meticulous care and untiring help extended throughout the progress of this study. His scholarly advice always steered me clear of any predicament in which I was placed.

I am also thankful to Prof. K.S. Sangwan, Dr. Neerja Ahlawat, Dr. Desraj, Dr. K. Chauhan, Dr. Jitender Prasad, Dr. U.K. Awesthy and Madam Nagla for valuable suggestions, constant encouragement.

One of the crucial stages of the study was the fieldwork done to collect the primary data. I received invaluable help from many people both at households and at bank level, which make the conducting of field study a smooth affair I must also extent my gratitude to library staff of M.D. University, I.C.S.S.R., Documentary Center Delhi, H.A.V. library at Hisar.

I would also like to thank the staff of NABARD (Zonal office at Chandigarh), P.N.B. Johsar, U.C.O. Bank Chhara, Cooperative Bank
Mirzapur and Chhara for providing valuable information / data and suggestion for the study.

Those who desire my special thanks and appreciation are, my father and my mother, of course, my brother Sh. Surender Dalal, My cousin Dr. Virender Dalal & Dr. Devender Dalal, My uncle Dr. Daleep Singh Shastri, my wife Kusum Dalal and lovely child Sanyam, who provided me with a congenial atmosphere and soothing and strength erring support for my thesis.

I also reserve my thanks for relatives and my friends Krishan Kumar, Sandeep Dalal and Dharamender Tiwari who always helped me with a smiling face.

Lastly, I thanks Mr. Rakesh Sangwan for the pain he took in composing this thesis with great care and efficiency.
