ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I express my deep sense of gratitude and thanks to Dr. Mohammad Afzal, Senior Lecturer, Department of Zoology, A.M.U Aligarh for suggesting to me the problem and providing supervision during the tenure of this work.

The long journey of despair, pains and anxieties, and cherish and hope to reach one day the shore of the ocean of knowledge and to be able to fetch some drops of water from this ocean, would not have been possible without the help of Professor Deba Prasad Mukherjee, University of Calcutta. So I would like to repay the kindness shown by him to me in full period of analysis and interpretation of the data, with the core of my heart, the inspiration to go for work in hypertension owes to the scholarship of Dr. D.C. Rao, Department of Biostatistics, University School of Medicine, St. Louis, U.S.A., who has added significantly to the knowledge of the subject in this area.

I wish to express my thanks to Prof. M.M. Agarwal, Chairman, Department of Zoology, A.M.U., Aligarh for extending to me the necessary facilities. I am extremely thankful to Prof. A.H. Siddiqi, Co-ordinator, DRS, Department of Zoology, for going through the final manuscript and some valuable suggestions therein. I will be failing my duty if I do not thank Prof. K.C. Malhotra, Head, Department of Human Genetics and Anthropology, ISI, Calcutta; Drs. P.P. Majumdar, B.M. Reddy, (Ms) Biva Karmakar, Vasulu, Department of Human Genetics and Anthropology, ISI, Calcutta, whose valuable reprints and discussions helped a lot in the work.

Helps are received from the Department of Psychology, AMU., Aligarh is gratefully acknowledged.
