ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I owe a considerable debt of gratitude to my teachers and friends, who have encouraged, advised and help me in completing this work. I owe special debts to my supervisor Dr. Mrs. Rashida Rana Siddiqui, Department of Sociology A.M.U., Aligarh for her constant guidance and inspirations. She always spared her precious time for making valuable suggestions for improvement. It is in her kind supervision that I could be able to complete this thesis. I am particularly grateful to Professor Noor Mohammad, Chairman Department of Sociology, A.M.U., Aligarh for his support and good deal of interest in my research pursuit. I also express my gratefulness to Prof. S.V. Pande, Head and Director, Department of Sociology, Institute of Social Sciences, Dr. B.R.Ambedkar University, Agra. I feel immense pleasure in thanking my colleagues at the Institute of Social Sciences, Agra. Thanks are also due to my teachers Dr. Jamal Siddiqui, Dr. Abdul Waheed, Dr. Syed Zainuddin, Dr. P.K. Mathur, Dr. Nemat Ali Khan, Dr. Abdul Matin who, very often advised me on various conceptual and theoretical issues, related with the study.

There are many people who helped me in the completion of this thesis. My thanks to my younger brother, Arif Wadood for his eagerness to help me all the time, my sister Dr. Naz for her regular enquiry about the work. My thanks are also due to all those my students in the Institute of Social Sciences for extending their co-operation for collecting various literature. I can not forget to express my thanks to Library Staff of Maulana Azad, Library, Aligarh, NCAER, New Delhi, Central Library, Dr. B.R.Ambedkar University, Department of Sociology and Social Work Aligarh.

Finally, I must express my profound sense of gratitude to my beloved wife Huma Arshad and daughter Madeeha Arshad without whose co-operation this study was not possible. I can not forget the blessings of my parents and brothers, which have always been the source of my strength.

In the last, I express my sincere gratitude to my student Mr. Ranjit who took immense pain in computer typing.

(Md. ARSHAD)