ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I pray to ALMIGHTY GOD for his great mercifulness and choicest blessings generously bestowed upon me, without which I could have never seen this work through. This research work could not have been completed without the encouragement, suggestion and assistance I received from many people at different stages of this work. It gives me immense pleasure to make this opportunity to express my gratitudes and thankful acknowledgements.

At the very outset I take this opportunity to thank my esteemed supervisor Prof. M. Jamal Siddiqui, Dept. of Sociology and Social Work AMU, Aligarh (India) who has always provided me intellectual guidance for preparing a conceptual frame work, theoretical and technical aspects of this research. I express my sincere gratitude to him for his scholarly supervision and effective guidance. Without his sincere support, this thesis could not have reached to its logical end. I am greatly indebted for his constant contributions, not only limited to the academic arena but also extended to the all aspects of my life and beyond. His patience is amazing, his co-operative attitude makes difficult things easy and academic depth is ever inspiring. I feel really proud of being as a Ph.D student of an adorable personality like him.

I like to express my sincere gratitude Prof. Noor Mohammad, Chair, Dept. of Sociology and Social Work, AMU, for his co-operation and encouragement throughout the period of the study. I am equally thankful to all the faculty members of the Department for their moral support fruitful discussion and encouragement.

My indebtedness is unlimited to the Dr. Mohammed Masudur Rahman, (Associate Professor) Dept. of Finance and Banking, University of Dhaka, Bangladesh and Prof. Hasnan Ahmed, Chair, Dept. of MBA, ASIAN University, Bangladesh for his inspiration, encouragement and moral support in the course of the present study. I am also thankful to Prof. Rejuan Hossain Bhuyan (Associate Professor) Dept. of Geography and Environment, University of Dhaka for his active co-operation in academic discussion and for some valuable suggestions in the present study. I like to thank Muhammad Mahboob Ali (Associate Professor) Dept. of MBA, The People’s University and Abdul Mannan lecturer, dept. of philosophy University of Chittagong, Bangladesh for his advice and inspiration during the preparation of the thesis. Thanks are also due to Prof. Najma Choudhury, Prof. N. Mahatab, Salma Banu, Aisa Banu, Prof. Hamida Akhter Begum Dept. of Women's Studies, and Prof. A.I. Mahbub Ahmed, Dept. of Sociology, Prof. Dalem Chandra Barmon Dept. of Peace and Conflict, M. Jamal, Dr. Fazlul Haq Dept. of Geography and environment University of Dhaka, and Samsun Nahar Begum Chair, Dept. of Sociology Eden College, Dhaka, Bangladesh for providing me their valuable suggestions in conducting the study. I am equally grateful to Dr. Nemat Ali Khan, Dr. P.K. Mathur, Dr. S. Zainuddin Ahmad, Dr. A. Wahid, Dr. Abdul Matin, Dr. Rashida Rana Siddiqui Dept. of Sociology and Social Work, AMU, for their kind suggestion and inspiration during entire period of the study.

I also must acknowledge the following individuals, groups and organisations for playing very significant roles during my multi-faced activities during this research. Mr. Husain (Section Officer) and the office staff Seminar Librarian Dept. of Sociology And Social Work AMU, who helped me sincerely in many ways during my study. I am also grateful to authors of various research publications whose work have been consulted, somewhere coated and referred in this study in India, Bangladesh and other countries. I have a especial sense of obligation towards them. I would also thank to many wholehearted especially mentioned in this connection may be made of friends, colleagues, fellows and relatives. M. Nuruddin Riyad Bashri, SK. Abdullah Al Mamun, Aminul Islam Khokon, Md. Asif Iqbal, Emad Uddin Prince, Md. Rana, Md. Mizanur Rahman, Abdussobur Rana, Israr Ahmad and Mahboobur Rahman (Mukul) for their nicest support during entire period of the study.

I am deeply indebted to my elder brothers. A.N.M Ibrahim Khan and Mrs. Mahbooba Nasrin for their active and continuous encouragement, sincere cooperation and sacrifices during the entire period of the study. Mrs. Mahbooba Nasreen was always the greatest sources of my inspiration and motivation. I thank them a lot from the core of my heart and I don’t find appropriate words in recording my indebtedness to them.
Last but not the least, I must express indebtedness and deepest sense of gratitude to my respected mother Sahanara Begum for her moral and cordial support, love and tacit blessings throughout my life in the absence of my father (Late) Abdul Karim Khan and also my regards all of my family members, close relatives and friends.

I would feel debt free if this research could play some meaningful role for the intellectual communities and the betterment of ordinary people who will not be able to read these pages/thesis and will not realise their contribution in making this research possible. They are the wage workers men and women who potentially replied to all sort of questions related to their private lives. Their replies constitute the bulk of the materials and germinate this issues on which this study is based.

Despite all efforts to the thesis free from errors, there may be some error still left unnoticed for what the author takes all the blame personally.
