“Praise To Allah Who Teacheth Man That Which He Knew Not”

As I sit down to write these final pages, I realize that my time in Aligarh Muslim University has come to an end. This work could not have been done without the help of a lot of other people. Without them, this experience would definitely not have been as special and gratifying as it was. So, it is my pleasure to have the opportunity to express my thanks to those who have ever helped me.

I thank Almighty without whose blessings this work would have remained an unaccomplished task.

I owe a very big thanks to my supervisor, Prof. Mahmood S. Khan. I am grateful for your kindness and constant readiness to help me. Your able guidance, illustrious advice, fervent interest and assiduousness have been the pillar of my strength which not only helped me to complete the task but excel in every academic pursuit. I will always be grateful to you, Sir, for providing me this valuable opportunity and for your guidance, constructive criticism, patience to guide me through my research. It has been excellent opportunity for and I have learned a lot from you. This experience not only provides an excellent base for my scientific future, it has also opened many new doors.

I am indebted to Prof. Hameeda Ahmad, Chairman, Department of Psychology, for providing me indispensable help during the period of my investigation. I also want to express my gratitude to all my teachers for extending full cooperation and encouragement.

Much valuable support, emotionally and practically has been received from my elder sister Miss. Nusrat Chashoo who was helpful in every possible way and let me to this milestone of achievement. Her supportive love kept me going through hard times and gave me confidence, courage and ambition. Without which it would not have been possible. There are not enough words to describe all the thanks you deserve.

I am very much thankful to my younger sisters, Rubia, Asima and Afshana Chashoo for their everlasting moral support, affection and patience. Who have always encouraged me and have gone out of the way to help me in different ways throughout the academic career.

I am grateful to my brother-in-law Mr. Sheikh Naseer for his timely encouragement and also I am highly thankful to Mr. Sheikh Siraj for his valuable support.

I cannot skip thanking Mr. Mohammad Ali Mohammed for who deserve a special thanks for the help and the support he provided at the find stage of the work.

As a special gesture of appreciation, I would like to thank my friends and colleagues for their unfailing help and trust. Thank you for being there........
Regardless of the source, I wish to express my gratitude to those who may have contributed to this work, even though anonymously.

In the last but not certainly the least, I am highly beholden to my parents, who dreamed of this for so long. You have been a great source of knowledge and inspiration during each and every endeavor of mine. I thank them for always being there for me, enabling me to be who I am and where I am today. You have been the constant source of love, support and encouragement which makes everything possible. I am looking back to the valuable suggestions of my beloved father characterized by latitude, stimulation, enthusiasm and continual support.

To my parents I dedicate this thesis.
