ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I thank Almighty without whose blessings this work would have remained an unaccomplished task.

An acknowledgement of all that one owes to one’s teachers, parents, benefactors, seniors and friends is impossible of formulation. However a few words of thanks would be in order:

My teacher and supervisor of this thesis Professor Shamim Ahmad Ansari, has been an unfailling source of guidance and enlightenment. He is a highly sophisticated psychologist and advanced methodologist of Psychological sciences. His scholarship and erudition have vitally and significantly contributed to the results, findings and formulations outlined in this thesis. I do not find appropriate words to encapsulate my admiration and estimation of his highly helpful, inspiring and affectionate personality. I shall let silence to speak for me for it is easier to be eloquent in that language.

I will be failing in my duty if I fail to thank to all my teachers of the department who encouraged and helped me throughout my studies at A.M.U.
Dr. Nisheed Imtiyaz (Lecturer, Department of Psychology) has been inestimably and deeply kind, affectionate and helpful during the preparation of this thesis. I register my gratitude to all of them from the deeps of my heart.

Dr. Sanaullah Parwaz, Reader, Department of Philosophy has been highly kind, helpful, encouraging and inspiring during my academic struggle in Aligarh. I am deeply beholden to him for his fatherly attitude and love.

Prof. Qazi Mazhar Ali, Department of Statistics, Director Computer Centre, A.M.U. Aligarh, has been highly cooperative, kind and helpful. Mr. Malik Hayat Hashim, System Programmer Computer Centre, A.M.U. Aligarh has provided immense help while analyzing the data of this thesis. I acknowledge my thanks to both of them.
My grand-parents and parents have blessed me with their love, affection, care and moral support throughout my long years of academic pursuit at A.M.U. Aligarh. My brothers and my sister have been extremely cordial and loving during my post-graduate and doctoral programmes. It is my pleasure to record my gratitude to them all.

Mr. Bilal Ahmad Khan has been extremely friendly, affectionate and caring. But for his moral support, it would have been almost impossible to carry out and complete my research work. I register my warm gratitude to him from the deeps of my heart.

Sheema, Samina, Shanoo, Shaheen, Nirlap and Kousar have been so nice, kind, loving and caring during the preparation of this thesis. I express my thanks to them all. The principals of various secondary schools in Kashmir valley have been helpful during the data collection of this thesis. The young respondents were so lovely and cooperative. I thank them all for their kind cooperation.

I also register my thanks to clerical staff of the Department of Psychology, A.M.U. Aligarh for their help and cooperation.

Allah alone is besought for help and on Him alone we depend.

(Anjum Saleem)