b. To conspire to commit in the United Kingdom any offence mentioned in sub-paragraphs (i) to (iii) above.

3. For the purposes of paragraph (1) (b) and (2) above, it shall be an offence to conspire as aforesaid only where it would be an offence under the law of the country in which the conspiracy is alleged to take place for a person to conspire in that country in the commission in that country of such an offence.
ARTICLE 8 : EXTRADITION AND PROSECUTION:

1. The request for extradition on may be refused by the requested state if the person whose extradition is sought may be tried for the extradition offence in the courts of that State.

2. Where the requested state refuses a request for extradition for the reason set out in paragraph 1 of this article, it shall submit the case to its competent authorities so that prosecution may be considered. Those authorities shall take their decision in the same manner as in the case of any offence of a serious nature under the law of that State.

3. If the competent authorities decide not to prosecute in such a case, the request for extradition shall be reconsidered in accordance with this Treaty.

ARTICLE 9: GROUNDS FOR REFUSAL OF EXTRADITION

1. A person may not be extradited if:

(a) He satisfies the requested state that the request for his extradition (though purporting to be made on account of an extradition offence) has in fact been made for the purpose of prosecuting or punishing him on account of his race, religion, nationality or political opinions, or

(b) He satisfies the requested state that he might, if extradited, be prejudiced at his trial or be punished, detained or restricted in his personal liberty, by reason of his race, religion, nationality or political opinion; or

(c) He satisfies the requested state that it would, having regard to all the circumstances, be unjust or oppressive to extradite him by reason of:

(i) The trivial nature of the offence for which he was convicted; or

(ii) The passage of time, since he is alleged to have committed it or to have become unlawfully at large, as the case may be, or

(iii) The accusation against him not having been made in good faith in the interests of justice; or

(d) The offence of which he is accused or convicted is a military offence which is not also an offence under the general criminal law.

2. A person who has been convicted of an extradition offence may not be extradited therefore unless he was sentenced to imprisonment or other form of detention for a period of four months or more or, subject to article 16 to the death penalty.

ARTICLE 10: POSTPONEMENT OF SURRENDER

1. If criminal proceedings against the person sought are instituted in the territory of the requested state, or he is lawfully detained in consequence of criminal proceedings the decision whether or not to extradite him may be postponed until the criminal proceedings have been completed or he is no longer detained.

2. A person sought may not be extradited until
   (a) It has been decided in accordance with the law of the required state that he is liable to be extradited, and.
   (b) The expiration of any further period which may be required by the law of that state.

ARTICLE 11: EXTRADITION PROCEDURES

1. Subject to the provisions of article 22 of this treaty, the request for extradition shall be made through the diplomatic channel.

2. The request shall be accompanied by:
   (a) As accurate a description as possible of the person sought, together with any other information which would help to establish his identity, nationality,
       and residence;
   (b) A statement of the facts of the offence for which extradition is requested, and
   (c) The text, if any, of the law
       (i) Defining that offence, and
       (ii) Prescribing the maximum punishment for that offence.

3. If the request relates to an accused person, it must also be accompanied by a warrant of arrest issued by a judge, magistrate or other competent authority in the territory of the requesting state and by such evidence as, according to the law of the requested state, would justify his committal for trial if the offence had been committed in the territory of the requested state, including evidence that the person requested is the person to whom the warrant of arrest refers.

4. If the request relates to a person already convicted and sentenced, it shall also be accompanied:
   (a) By a certificate of the conviction and sentence;
   (b) By a statement that the person is not entitled to question the conviction or sentence and showing how much of the sentence has not been carried out.

5. In relation of a convicted person who was not present at his trial, the person shall be treated for the purposes of paragraph (4) of this articles as if he had been accused of the offence of which he was convicted.

6. If the requested state considers that the evidence produced or information supplied for the purposes of this treaty is not sufficient in order to enable a decision to be taken as to the request, additional evidence or information shall be submitted within such time as the requested state shall require.

ARTICLE 2 : PROVISIONAL ARREST

1. In urgent cases the person sought may, in accordance with the law of the requested state, be provisionally arrested on the application of the competent authorities of the requesting state. The application shall contain an indication of intention to request the extradition of that person and a statement of the existence of a warrant of arrest or a conviction against him, and, if available, his description and such further information, if any, was would be necessary to justify the issue of a warrant of arrest had the offence been committed, or the person sought been convicted, in the territory of the requested state.

2. A person arrested upon such an application shall be set at liberty upon the expiration of 60 days from the date of his arrest if a request for his extradition shall not prevent the institution of further proceedings for the extradition of the person sought if a request is subsequently received.

ARTICLE 13 : RULE OF SPECIALITY

1. Any person who is returned to the territory of the requesting state under this treaty shall not, during the period described in paragraph (2) of this article, be dealt within the territory of the requesting state for or in respect of any offence committed before he was returned to that territory other than:

(a) The offence in respect of which he was returned;

(b) Any lesser offence disclosed by the facts provided for the purposes of securing his return other than an offence in relation to which an order for his return could not lawfully be made; or
(c) Any other offence in respect of which the requested party may consent to his being dealt with other than an offence in relation to which an order for his return could not lawfully be made or would not in fact be made.

2. The period referred to in paragraph (1) of this article is the period beginning with the day of his arrival in the territory of the requesting state or his return under this treaty and ending forty-five days after the first subsequent day on which he has the opportunity to leave the territory of the requesting state.

3. The provisions of paragraph (1) of this article shall not apply to offences committed after the return of a person under this treaty or matters arising in relation to such offences.

4. A person shall not be re-extradited to a third state, except when, having had an opportunity to leave the territory of the state to which he has been surrendered, he has not done so within sixty days of his final discharge, or has returned to that territory after having left it.

ARTICLE 14 : EVIDENCE

1. The authorities of the requested state shall admit as evidence, in any proceedings for extradition any evidence taken on oath or by way of affirmation, any warrant and any certificate of, or judicial document.
stating the fact of, a conviction, if it is authenticated

(a) (i) In the case of a warrant being signed, or in the case of any original document by being certified, by a judge, magistrate or other competent authority of the requesting state, and

(ii) Either by oath of some witness or by being sealed with the official seal of the appropriate minister of the requesting state; or.

(b) In such other manner as may be permitted by the law of the requested state.

2. The evidence described in paragraph (1) shall be admissible in extradition proceedings in the requested state whether sworn or affirmed in the requesting state or in some third state.

ARTICLE 15 : COMPETING REQUESTS

If extradition of the same person whether for the same offence or for different offences is requested by a contracting state and a third state with which the requested state has an extradition arrangement, the requested state shall determine to which state the person shall be extradited, and shall not be obliged to give preference to the contracting state.

ARTICLE 16 : CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

If under the law of the requesting state the persons sought is liable to the death penalty for the offence for which his extradition is requested, but the law of the requested state does not provide for the death penalty in a similar case, extradition may be refused unless the requested state gives such assurance as the requested state considers sufficient that the death penalty will not be carried out.

ARTICLE 17 : SURRENDER

1. If extradition is granted, the person sought shall be sent by the authorities of the requested state to such convenient point of departure from the territory of that state as the requesting state shall indicate.

2. The requesting state shall remove the person sought from the territory of the requested state within one month or such longer period as may be permitted under the law of the requested state. If he is not removed within that period, the requested state may refuse to extradite him for the same offence.

ARTICLE 18 : SURRENDER OF PROPERTY

1. When a request for extradition is granted, the requested state shall, upon request and so far as its law allows, hand over to the requesting state articles (including sums of money) which may serve as proof or evidence of the offence.

2. If the articles in question are liable to seizure or confiscation in the territory of the requested state, the latter may in connection with pending proceedings, temporarily retain them or hand them over on condition that they are returned.

3. These provisions shall not prejudice the rights of the requested state or any person other than the person sought. When these rights exist the articles shall on request be returned to the requested state without charge as soon as possible after the end of the proceedings.

ARTICLE 19 : MUTUAL LEGAL ASSISTANCE IN EXTRADITION

Each contracting state shall, to the extent permitted by its law, afford the other the widest, measure of mutual assistance in criminal matters in connection with the offence for which extradition has been requested.

ARTICLE 20 : DOCUMENTS AND EXPENSES

1. If in any particular case the requested state so requires the requesting state shall supply a translation of any document submitted in accordance with the provisions of this treaty.

2. Expenses incurred in the territory of the requested state by reason of the request for extradition shall be borne by that state.

3. The requested state shall make all the arrangements which shall be requisite with respect to the representation of the requesting state in any proceedings arising out of the request.

ARTICLE 21 : TERRITORIAL APPLICATION

1. This treaty shall apply:
(a) In relation to the United Kingdom:
   (i) To Great Britain and Northern Ireland; and
   (ii) To any territory for whose international relations the United Kingdom is responsible and to which this treaty shall have been extended by agreement between the contracting states in an exchange of notes; and

(b) To the Republic of India:
and references to the territory of a contracting state shall be construed accordingly.

2. The application of this treaty to any territory, in respect of which extension has been made in accordance with paragraph (1) of this article, may be terminated by either contracting state giving six months notice to the other through the diplomatic channel.

3. Until the application of the treaty shall have been extended to a territory in accordance with paragraph (1) of this article, the extradition arrangements between the republic of India and that territory subsisting prior to the entry into force of this treaty shall continue to apply.
