

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

With a sense of high esteem and gratitude, I express my sincere thanks to Professor Dr.S.A.H.Heqqi, Head of the Department of Political Science, Aligarh Muslim University. I am deeply indebted and grateful to him as he encouraged me to undertake this study, supervised the work, made many contributions, and guided me at every stage, from the initial planning to the final drafting of the thesis. Without his constant stimulation and unfailing interest, the completion of this study would not have been possible.

My thanks are also due to Messrs C.S. Nayar, Under Secretary, N.N.Datta, Education Officer, Ministry of Education, Government of India for their invaluable help given to me since my arrival in India as a UNESCO fellow, the Government of U.A.R. for having granted me study leave for the purpose of this study, and the staff and students of the Aligarh Muslim University, who made my stay comfortable and profitable.

I heartily thank H.E.Ameen Helmi II, The Ambassador of the U.A.R. to India for his unreserved assistance in the prosecution of my research.

I am much obliged to many friends and colleagues particularly Messrs S.Zaglool, A.Hamad, M.El Shafaki of the U.A.R. Embassy, New Delhi, Mr. M.Wahby of the Arab League Office, New Delhi, Galal El Rashidi of the State Information Service, Cairo, Dr. M.A.Kishore, Jamal M. Ali, Khawaja Habibuddin, my cousin Dr. Yehia El Shafei and my co-scholars from U.A.R. studying in India, for their generous help and assistance during the course of the study.

My thanks are due to the competent staff of the Maulana Azad Library, Centre of West Asian Studies Library, Aligarh, Sapru House Library, New Delhi and Darul-Kutob, Cairo for providing information and making material available for this work. I wish to thank Mr. Azmatullah Qureishy for typing out the thesis.

Finally, I owe the most to my wife Aisha who accompanied me to India, encouraged me at every moment and helped me complete the work.

I alone am, however, responsible for the facts mentioned or the views expressed in the thesis.
