Acknowledgement

It is almost impossible to fully acknowledge what one owes to one’s benefactors, teachers, friends and colleagues. One does feel the burden of debt without finding appropriate words to articulate one’s feelings. However, a few words, howsoever inadequate, would be in order:

Mr. Mohammad Muqim, my esteemed teacher and supervisor of this thesis has been a great source of encouragement, guidance and inspiration during the preparation of this thesis. He is a man of vision and mission. His critical and methodological virtuosity has been instrumental in sharpening of various formulations outlined in this thesis. He has been highly encouraging during my postgraduate programme at Aligarh as well. The present project is an outcome of his affection and compassion. I am deeply beholden to him from the deeps of my heart.

Professor Jalalul Haq is an inexhaustible source of enlightenment. His vast erudition has always inspired me in my philosophical endeavours. He has been especially highly encouraging, kind and compassionate during the preparation of the final typescript of this thesis. Without his blessings this thesis would not have seen the light of the day. I acknowledge my deep debt of gratitude to him.

Dr. Roshan Ara, Chairperson, Department of Philosophy, A.M.U. Aligarh has always been highly encouraging and helpful. She has been especially very kind while I was finalizing this thesis. It is a pleasure to register my thanks to her.

Dr. S.A. Sayeed, has been an unfailing source of guidance, encouragement and love. His profound scholarship and philosophical wisdom have deeply impacted my academic struggle at Aligarh. Dr. Preeti Sayeed has been an unfailing source of kindness, encouragement and compassion during my years at Aligarh. It is my privilege to acknowledge my abiding gratitude to them both.

Dr. Sanaullah Mir has been kind enough to go through the final typescript. He has offered valuable suggestions which guided me while working out my final draft. Besides, he has always been helpful, kind and encouraging. I must register my thanks to him as well.

Dr. Latif Hussain Kazmi has always blessed me with his kindness, goodness and sweetness. His love, encouragement and support have always been available to me during the entire period of my research programme. I acknowledge my gratitude to him from the core of my heart.
Mukhtar Apa has been most kind and caring. Dr. Anwar Salim has been highly kind and co-operative. Naushaba, Jaleel, Shakil, Diwan, Aquil and Anis have been providing countless hours of joy and togetherness. They have been so nice and sweet and helpful in various ways as well. My sincere thanks go to them all.

Professor Mir Akramuzzaman of Bangladesh has been the real and original source of love and compassion. His visionary sagacity and missionary zeal make him a thing of beauty and joy for ever. He has been showering his blessings on me throughout my long years of academic engagement. This thesis is most respectfully dedicated to him as a token of my perennial gratitude.

Mr. Mohammad Mozammel Haque and Mrs. Shamsunnahar Mitul, Department of Philosophy, University of Chittagang, Bangladesh have been greatly caring, encouraging and helpful during my preoccupation with the present project. I express my deeply felt gratitude to them both.

Mr. Muhibullah Mahmud, Department of Geography, C.U. Bangladesh, has extended all possible co-operation and help. I am deeply thankful to him for his affection and kindness.

My Late father Mr. Md. Zoynal Abedin and my mother Mrs. Amena Begum have been showering their blessings all along. My brothers and brothers-in-law and sisters and sisters-in-law have been most loving, kind and considerate. Other family members too have been loving. I am deeply grateful to them all.

I am also thankful to staff members of Maulana Azad Library, A.M.U. Aligarh and I.C.P.R. library, Butler Palace, Lucknow.

I would like to thank Government of India, especially Human Resource Development Ministry which provided me the facility of visa during my years of academic pursuit in India.

It is my moral duty to express my most sincere thanks to the University of Chittagang, Bangladesh, for granting me financial help without which I could not have been able to complete the present thesis.

Lastly, Mr. H.K. Sharma of Hind Typing Centre deserves my sincere thanks for impeccably bringing out this thesis.
