Bibliography
BIBLIOGRAPHY

1. National Archives of India, New Delhi, India

Home Department, Political B: Weekly Reports of the Director, Criminal Intelligence, and the Government of the Punjab on the political situation during January, February, March, April, June, July, August, 1908.

Home Department, Political Deposit, November 1908: Note by the Director, Criminal Intelligence on the anti-British movement among natives of India in America.

Native newspapers, Punjab, 1908.

Home Department, Political A. Calcutta Records, 1910, Proceedings, Nos. 133-135: Note by the Director, Criminal Intelligence on the Revolutionary Group, India House, London. Proposed action against the members in connection with the Nasik conspiracy case.

Home Department, Political B, June 1913, Proceedings, Nos. 5-17 (Conf.): Indian agitation in California; proposal to check it; proposed deportation of Har Dayal from U.S.A. Note on the Hindu national movement by Har Dayal, his activities. Lock up of all contacts of Har Dayal, with his relations at Berkeley, because of Har Dayal's revolutionary propaganda.

Home Department, Political A, July 1913, Proceedings, Nos. 1-3: Interception under Section 26 of the Indian Post Office Act, of all postal articles addressed from India to Madame Bhikhaiji Rustom K. R. Cama or to Mrs. Bradley.

Home Department, Political A, January 1914, Proceedings, No.5: Cancellation of the orders directing the interception under Section 26 of the Indian Post Office Act, 1898 (VI of 1898), of all articles addressed to Har Dayal, Berkeley, California, and to Indians in Agra or Allahabad posted in Berkeley, San Francisco or Palo Alto, California (U.S.A.).

Home Department, Political B, October 1915, Proceedings, Nos. 242-47: Supply of the photographs of Har Dayal and Ajit Singh for the use of the Siamese police. Note of Indian revolutionaries in Siam. The Gadr movement was initiated by one Har Dayal a notorious Indian who is to be believed at present moment to be actively assisting His Britannic Majesty's enemies in Germany and Turkey.

Home Department, November 1918, Proceedings, No. 34: Issue of a warrant for the extradition of Har Dayal should he ever come within British Jurisdiction.

should he ever come within British Jurisdiction.

Home Department, Political B, March 1920, Proceedings, No. 155: Opinion recorded by Advocate General of Bengal regarding the Trial in India of Har Dayal.

Home Department, Political B, F. No. 192, 1924: Application from Har Dayal for amnesty and passport.

Home Department, Political B, Deposit, Proceedings, F 53/11/1925: Notice of a question in the Legislative Assembly by N. C. Kelkar regarding Indian seditionists abroad.

Home Department, Political, File No. 34/XVIII/1926: Application from Har Dayal for a visa for England, and for assurance that he will not be prosecuted for his past activities provided he does not commit any fresh offence.

Home Department, Political, Files No. 28/II/28, 9N132-Poll and K. W. I-IV; 1932: Question of the prosecution of Har Dayal if he returns to India.

Home Department, Political, File No. 22/89/35. 1935: Question in Legislative Assembly and the Council of State by Sardar Mangal Singh and Hon'ble Mr. Brijlal Biajini, respectively, regarding the removal of restrictions on the entry into India of those Indians who are residing abroad for their political pasts.

Home Department, Political, File No. 28/7/38, 1938. Subject: Statement in the Press by Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru regarding Dr. Har Dayal. Grant of permission to Dr. Har Dayal to come back to India on the condition that on arrival he surrender his passport and undertakes not to participate in any unconstitutional movement. Question of the grant of travel facilities to Har Dayal to return to India via Ceylon, Siam and Burma Report of his death.

B. PUBLISHED BOOKS AND ARTICLES BY HAR DAYAL

Har Dayal was the author of the following books:

Forty-Four Months in Germany and Turkey, February 1915 to October 1918, A Record of Personal Impressions. London: P. S. King and Son Ltd., 1920.

Our Educational Problem. Madras: Tagore & Co., 1922.

Twelve Religions and Modern Life. Edgware (Middlesex): Modern Culture Institute, 1938.

From 1909 through 1926 the following articles by Har Dayal were published in the Modern Review (Calcutta). They are listed here in chronological order:

"Some Phases of Contemporary Thought in India," XII:5 (November 1912), 469-75.

"X.Y.Z." was a pseudonym Har Dayal used in writing for the Modern Review. In the case of "The Indian Peasant," he was identified. In the case of the following two articles, he was not:

"Class-Psychology and Public Movements," XV:2 (February 1914), 511-17.

"Twenty-Five Hundred Years of Humane Education in India," XV:5 (May 1914), 511-17.

Excerpts are also cited from the following articles, likewise listed in chronological order:

"What the World is Waiting For," The Open Court (Chicago), XXVI:3 (March 1912), 169-73.

"Pioneers of Socialism," The Plebs: (1) Morelly, XXIV:10 (October 1932), 229-30; (2) Babeuf, XXIV:1 (November 1932), 252-55; (3) Godwin, XXV:2 (February 1930), 35-37; (4) Thomas Spence, XXV:7 (July 1933), 153-55;
(5) Buonarroti, XXVI:5 (May 1934), 110-12.

The following articles written by Har Dayal were published in the Lahore periodicals indicated. All appeared in 1908:

Azad: "National History," June.

C. AUTOBIOGRAPHIES AND BIOGRAPHIES

D. PUBLISHED OTHER BOOKS

1910.

Postgate, R.W. The International During the War. London: The Herald, 1918.

E. ARTICLES AND PERIODICALS

Aldred, Guy A. "Stop This Infamy! " Herald of Revolt (London), IV:5 (May 1914), 45-47.

Bose, A.C. "Efforts of the Indian Revolutionaries at Securing German Arms Across the Seas During World War I," The Calcutta Review, CLXII:1

India (London), 1918-19.

The Indian Sociologist (London; Paris), 1905-1914.

___ "East Indian Immigration to the Pacific Coast," The Survey, XXVIII (June 1, 1912), 379-86.

"Shall We Legislate Against the Foreign Patriot?" The Outlook, CI (May 18, 1912), 94.

