ACKNOWLEDGMENT

I take this opportunity to record my deep sense of gratitude to Professor S. Nurul Hasan, formerly Head of the Department of History, A.M.U., Aligarh, on whose suggestion this work was undertaken and who had always been very helpful to me. I am also greatly indebted to Professor K.A. Hisami, Head of the Department of History, who was generous to me both with his time and attention. To Professor Irfan Habib I am grateful for encouragement that he always gave to me. He has given me guidance on a number of problems. My debt of gratitude to my supervisor, Professor M. Athar Ali is not possible to express in words. His objective approach to the problem of history enabled me to study the source material and interpret it with a detached view. I must thank my teacher, Professor M.A. Ansari of Allahabad University, now Professor in History (Jadia Millia) on research who inspired me to carry on the role of the nobility in Mughal politics. I also gratefully acknowledge the help and cooperation of the Librarian, and staff of Maulana Azad Library, Aligarh, Research Library, Centre of Advanced Study in History, Department of History, A.M.U. Aligarh, Allahabad and Khuda Bakhsh Library, Patna. In the end I thank my friends and colleagues who helped in many ways in the completion of my work.
