ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am grateful to my supervisor Prof. K.Z. Amani, Department of Geography, Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh, for his encouragement and guidance. I also wish to thank Prof. M. Shafi for his constant encouragement and Prof. M. Farooq Siddiqui, Chairman, Department of Geography, A.M.U., Aligarh, for providing the necessary research facilities in the department. Thanks are also due to Prof. Irfan Habib (A.M.U.) and Prof. Kashi Nath Singh (B.H.U.) for their valuable help.

I extend my deep sense of gratitude to my mother, brothers, Mr. M. Tufail Siddiqui, and Mr. Obaidur Rehman Siddiqui for their blessing and moral support. They have been a constant source of inspiration in my academic pursuit.

I would also like to place on record the help I have received from my friends, Mr. Shakeel Ahmad Khan, Mr. Faisal Aftab, Dr. A.Q. Khan, Dr. Nizamuddin, Mr. Onais Nadeem, Mr. Fazlur Rahman and Mr. Shafiqullah. Thanks are also to the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR), New Delhi, for awarding the research fellowship to carry out the present work. Thanks are also due to Mr. Munne Khan for the help in the preparation of maps & diagram and Mr. Suhail Ahmad for wordprocessing of the dissertation.

However, for any typographical and other narrative mistakes I own myself responsible.
