CONTENTS

Preface .......... (i - iv)

CHAPTER – 1 INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND... (1 – 25)

Past, Practice & Theory

Section - I The Phonic Method
The Word Method
The Sentence Method

Section - II Recent Theory and Research

(i) Bottom-up view of reading
(ii) Top-down view of reading
(iii) The coming back of bottom-up views
(iv) Comprehension strategy training
(v) Interactive views of reading

Section - III (1) Implications for Classroom.
(2) Development of Skills and Strategies.
(3) Use of background knowledge to pre-reading activities.
(4) Development of Metacognitive Skills & Strategies.

CHAPTER – 2 RECENT TRENDS IN READING PEDAGOGY (26 – 75)

Section – I Theoretical Bases

i) Theory of Language
ii) Theory of Language Learning
iii) Theory of Reading
iv) Schema Theory
v) Components of Reading

Section – II Course Design in CLT

i) Needs Analysis
ii) Organizing Principles
iii) The ideal Communicative Language Teaching Syllabus
iv) Functional Analytic Syllabus
v) Experiential Approach
Section – III Methodology

Materials and Activity Types.

i) Pre-communicative activities
ii) Communicative activities

- General Language Teaching activities in the classroom
- Activities for the teaching of reading
  i) Understanding discourse structure
  ii) Authentic text
  iii) A multi-skill approach
  iv) Reading, an active skill
  v) Flexible and varied activities

- Exercise types for reading
- Materials
  i) Text-based material
  ii) Task-based material
  iii) Realia

- Authentic texts.

CHAPTER – 3  CLASSROOM OBSERVATION .......... (76 – 123)

Methodology

i) Purpose and Significance of the study
ii) Subjects
iii) Instruments
iv) Procedure

Classroom Observation

1) Classroom Teaching

i) Objectives
ii) Materials
iii) Pre-teaching and Main-teaching
iv) Interaction Analysis
v) Pedagogic Principles.
CHAPTER - 4  DISCUSSION AND CONCLUSION ...(124 – 145)

Section - I
(i) Classroom Teaching
   (a) Objectives
   (b) Materials
   (c) Pre-teaching and Main-teaching
   (d) Teaching of Strategies
   (e) Use of L1 and blackboard

Section - II
(ii) Interaction Analysis
    (a) Error Correction
    (b) Teacher learner role

Section - III
(iii) Pedagogical Principles
    (a) Objectives
    (b) Materials
    (c) Classroom presentation

BIBLIOGRAPHY  ....... (146 – 158)
APPENDIX I  ....... (159 – 170)
APPENDIX II  ....... (171 – 243)