ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

All thanks and gratitude are due to Allah (SWT) without whose help nothing is possible.

It is a privilege to express my sincere and deep gratitude to my esteemed supervisor, Prof. Akther Zaheer Rizvi, Dean Faculty of Social Science, for expert guidance, constant encouragement and his kindness and generosity.

I also wish to express my thanks to Prof. Ashok Mittal, Chairman Department of Economics, for his interest and cooperation throughout my research. My thanks are also due to other Teaching and Non-Teaching staff members of the department for their cooperation, kindness and moral support at each stage of this study.

I am also grateful to Dr Abdul Azim Islahi, whose valuable comments and suggestions were helpful in classifying the problems of the study. I owe a deep debt of gratitude to secretaries and staffs of the Muslim Funds for providing materials and data of the funds for this study. My thanks are also due to all my colleagues in general who have contributed in many ways during the study.

The nature and scope of the topic post the most serious problem of obtaining books and articles needed for research. The Librarian and staff of Maulana Azad Library, Seminar Library of Department of Economics, Library of Centre for West Asian Studies, Library of Institutes of Objective Study
New Delhi, National Library Kolkata and Library of PRIA
New Delhi all deserve my sincere appreciation and gratitude.

At this stage, I must be failing in my duty if I do not express my deepest gratitude to my grand parents, parents and family members who remain an eternal source of inspiration and encouragement in every sphere of life, which leads me to success. I am also thankful to my uncle, Mr Kabir Ahmad Khan, for his love, permanent support and encouragement in my academic endeavour.
