ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

All praise to Allah SWT without whose guiding light and perennial help we can achieve nothing.

The success of any research endeavor depends on the contribution of many people, especially those who take the time to share their thoughtful criticisms and suggestions to improve the research projects.

I deem it a great pleasure to express my deep sense of gratitude and thanks to my respected supervisor Prof. M. Mushtaque Ahmad, Chairman and Dean Faculty of Commerce, A.M.U. Aligarh for his kind gesture to go through this work and allow submission of this thesis under his supervision. In no less measure, I am grateful to Prof. Mahfoozur Rahman, former Dean & Chairman, Dept. of Commerce, for his constant encouragement and able guidance in carrying out my research work. He, despite his multifarious academic engagements, provided excellent, intellectual stimulus and inspiration. This work in fact, bears imprints of his balanced criticism and knowledgeable approach. It is his scholarly insight which shaped the content of this work.

I am deeply indebted to Prof. Mohammad Ali, Prof. B.A. Iqbal and other teachers of the Department of Commerce, specially Dr. Z.U. Khairoomala for his encouragement, inspiration and sympathetic attitude and immense help throughout the course of this study.

I am grateful to the authorities of the Charoan Pokphand Feedmill Co. Ltd. for providing me necessary facilities and support for carrying out the study. The study would not have been completed without the understanding and full cooperation of the top executives, and all staff members of the CPJ. Their willingness to provide relevant information despite their busy schedules is highly appreciated. I wish to record my appreciation to Ms. Chatulada Chantarungsri and Ms. Tab'Thip Saengkaew.

I am grateful to the University Grants Commission (UGC) for award of Junior Research Fellowship (JRF) and Asst. Prof. Dr. Apipon Kongchanahun. The Vice President Advisor of Parliament (Thailand) for financial assistance.

My overriding debt is to my friends and colleagues at AMU, who helped me in the course of this study by providing valuable information and comments. They are too numerous to be listed individually. However, several persons deserve to be singled out. They are Dr. Nasir Naeem, Dr. Sheikh Mustafa al Saied, Dr. Rahat Ali, Mr. A. Hameed Hamideh, Mr. Tarig H. Al-Qirim, and Mr. Srawut Aree, Mr. Manoch Aree.

No word can adequately express my debt of gratitude to my esteemed parents, sisters and my brother, for generating in me a perennial interest in higher studies and to whose encouragement sacrificial devotion and supported me financially from Thailand while I have been far away from them.

I am glad to express my appreciation to all non-teaching staff of the Faculty of Commerce, for providing a lively environment to work in.

Charityada Chantarungsri