In the name of “Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful”

All praise and thanks to Almighty Allah for letting me to accomplish this research endeavor. During this long and eventful journey I have had a vigorous training to excellence in research, to move forward with investigations in depth and in particular, I have learned a lot about myself. I found weakness where I thought I was strong and strengths where I felt vulnerable. To say it has been a learning experience is a vast understatement, I will remember everything I have learned here and use it to guide me through the rest of my days both inside and outside of the lab.

I am eternally grateful to my able supervisor Dr. (Mrs.) Farukh Arjmand for her proficient guidance, incessant encouragement, incredible patience and constructive critiques. Her skills as an innovative and an accomplished researcher, ebullient scientific attitude, good organizing ability, enthusiasm, inspiration and her great efforts to explain things clearly and simply, served to give me a sense of direction in research and life in general. Beyond research, she is an exemplary advocate, psychologist, editor, motivator or to put it simply a complete institution in itself.

Much gratitude is extended to Prof. Sartaj Tabassum for so generously sharing his knowledge and expertise. His thoughtful advice and deep insight into the work are extremely valuable in getting through the difficult times, whenever the problems got tough.

My sincere thanks to Chairman, Department of Chemistry, AMU, Aligarh for providing me the necessary research facilities during the period of my research work.
Thanks are due to Regional Sophisticated Instrumentation Center, Central Drug Research Institute and Indian Institute of Technology, Bombay for providing access to their CHN, IR, NMR, mass spectra and EPR facilities, respectively.

My incredible thanks to University Grants Commission (Project Fellow) and Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (Senior Research Fellow), New Delhi for their kind financial support through scheme No. 12-21/2003 (SR) and 01 (1982)/05-EMR-II, respectively.

I would like to thank all the past and present lab colleagues for their cooperation throughout my research work. The biggest thanks belong to Irshad, Mala and Suvigya for their sound advice, good company, and fruitful discussions and of course to the wonderful moments we had together.

My thanks also go to my friends and roommates for being so nice and considerate to me. I cannot end without thanking my loving and supportive family without whom I could have never made it this far. I wish to thank my parents, who raised me, supported me, taught me and encouraged me to do my best in all matters of life. My heartfelt thanks to my special aunt for her understanding and unflinching courage. You have contributed your entire life to our family. You always did everything you could and gave everything you had and just knowing you were always there, has made all the difference.

And last but not the least many thanks to my elder brother and sisters for their love, care, continuous support and interest in what I do. It is to my family that I dedicate this work.
