ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is my foremost duty to thank Almighty God for His blessings for the successful completion of my research work.

I would like to express my whole hearted and sincere thanks to my guide Dr. G. Kannabiran, Professor, Department of Management Studies and Dean (Research & Consultancy), National Institute of Technology, Tiruchirapalli for his invaluable guidance, time and patience for supporting me during every stage of this thesis. His research knowledge helped me to approach the research problem from an analytical perspective. He has helped me to shape the research model and improve my ability in conducting empirical research. Working with him has been a pleasant and fruitful learning experience.

I express my sincere thanks to Dr. M. Puniyamoorthy, Head Department of Management Studies, National Institute of Technology Tiruchirappalli and to the other faculty for their support throughout the study.

I am grateful to Shri. N. Bala Baskar, Director, Bharathidasan Institute of Management, Tiruchirappalli, for his unstinted support and encouragement for the completion of my thesis.

My sincere thanks to my Doctoral committee member Dr. P. Vijayaraghavan, Professor, Department of Management Studies Indian Institute of Technology Chennai, for his advice and continuous support for this research.

My special thanks to Prof. Pyare Lal Arya, Advisor, Bharathidasan Institute of Management for his encouragement and support in my endeavour.
I am thankful to all my faculty colleagues at Bharathidasan Institute of Management for sharing with me their valuable research experiences and information and providing assistance on conducting the research.

I am grateful to alumni of Bharathidasan Institute of Management who helped me in a large measure to get the responses to my survey and to all the 320 respondents who made this research possible with their responses.

It would not have been possible to achieve this milestone without the encouragement, understanding and support of my parents, wife and children throughout the period of research. I express my heartfelt thanks to all the members of my family.
