CHAPTER

I THE PROBLEM ...................................................... 1

1.1 Introduction.
1.2 A Brief Review of Previous Studies.
1.3 Objectives of the Study.
1.4 Statement of the Problem.
1.5 Scope and significance of the Problem.
1.6 Formulation of Hypotheses.
1.7 Concepts and their operational definitions.
1.8 Delimitation of the Problem.

II THE CRITERION GROUP ................................. 68

2.1 The Criterion Sample.
2.11 The Criterion Sample: Size and Technique.
2.2 Concept, definition and criterion of Academic over-and under-achievers.
2.21 Concept and definition of OA and UA.
2.22 Criteria of academic over-and under-achievers.
2.3 Identification of OA and UA.
2.31 Rationale for selecting intelligence as a criterion variable.
2.32 Instruments used.
2.33 Methods and procedures of identification of academic over-and under-achievers.
CHAPTER III

THE STUDY PROPER

3.0 The Sample Proper.
3.1 The Sample Proper: Size and Technique.
3.2 Instruments used in the proper study:
   (a) Rationale of their selections.
   (b) Description of Instruments.
3.3 Methods and procedures of Data collection.
3.4 Data Analysis of the study proper.
3.5 Data processing of the study proper.

CHAPTER IV

FINDINGS, THEIR INTERPRETATIONS AND DISCUSSIONS: I.

4.0 Findings, their interpretations based on criterion and intra-independent variables.
4.1 Findings, their interpretations based on criterion variables.
4.2 Findings, their interpretations based on intra-independent variables.
   4.21 Aptitudes as predictors of OA and UA.
   4.22 Achievement motivation as predictor of OA and UA.
   4.23 Personality traits of OA and UA.
4.3 A Global Interpretation.

CHAPTER V

FINDINGS, THEIR INTERPRETATIONS AND DISCUSSIONS: II.

5.0 Findings, their interpretations based on inter-independent variables.
5.1 Study of interactional analysis of the three independent variables.
5.2 Hierarchical presentation of the independent variables as predictors.
5.3 Inter-relationships between 18 independent and criterion variables.

CHAPTER VI

RESUME

6.1 Summary.
6.2 Conclusions.
6.3 Recommendations.
6.4 Suggestions for the improvement of UA.
6.5 Follow-up research on OA and UA.
