Acknowledgements

I take this opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude to Ustaad-e-Mohtram, Dr. Parvaiz Talib, for his guidance and advice. I would like to thank him for introducing me to a fascinating area of human behavior in organization: Organizational Role Stress. His constant encouragement and support has sustained my interest in research. The thesis has immensely benefited from his learned comments during the course of our discussions. He showed remarkable patience to my procrastinations and vacillations.

The study covered a sample of insurance sector professionals from Uttar Pradesh Region. A number of people in industry helped me in data collection and in arranging interviews with insurance professionals. For this I especially thank Mr. J. K. Lodi (Principal, Training Center, Aligarh LIC Division), Dr. S. Singh (Manager LIC Meerut Division), Mr. Abdussalam (Principal, Training Centre, Varanasi Division) and Prof. I. A. Zilli.

I would like to thank Prof. Javed Akhtar (Dean & Chairman) also. His presence has always been a source of encouragement. Thanks are also due to Prof. Kaleem Mohammad Khan. His elderly presence in the department was always a source of inspiration. I take this opportunity to thanks other teachers of the department who were always ready to help. Their knowledgeable advise and suggestions have gone a long way in making this research a possibility.
I must thank my colleagues Dr. Mohsin Aziz, Dr. Mairaj Salim, Mr. Rumzi Tausif, Mr. Raheel Ahmed. I owe my gratitude to my friends, Mr. M. Yahya Abbasi, M. Fayyaz, M. Khalid, M. Aurangzeb, Imran Khan, M. Shabbir, M. Naeem K. P. and others for meticulously proofreading the manuscript and pointing out the discrepancies. Their computer prowess helped me immensely in this respect. I am also indebted to Dr. M. Naved Khan and Dr. Daud Salim Farooqui. Their advice and suggestions regarding statistics were most valuable.

Acknowledgement is also due to the librarians and staff of the Maulana Azad Library (Aligarh Muslim University), Tata Institute of Social Sciences (TISS, Mumbai) and National Institute of Rural Development (NIRD, Hyderabad) for their help in collection of research materials. I must also thank the staff of Seminar Library of Department of Business Administration and Department of Psychology (Aligarh Muslim University) for their kind cooperation.

Last but not least, I would like to thank my family for keeping my moral high in this arduous task. Without their encouragement and support this research would not have been possible.

Despite the support of so many persons, the flaws and inconsistencies are due to my own frailties.
