ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I bow in reverence to express my gratitude and indebtedness to the Almighty God whose gracious blessings gave me the required zeal for the completion of this study.

I am highly indebted to Dr. Irshad Mahmood, Department of Botany, A.M.U., Aligarh, my guide and counselor, for suggesting the problem, encouragement, active guidance and keen interest throughout my studies and preparation of this thesis.

At the outset, I feel pleasure in expressing my debt of gratitude to Dr. V. S. Mehrotra (presently, Lecturer (plant protection), Division of Agriculture, PSS Central Institute of Vocational Education, 131, Zone II, M.P. Nagar, Bhopal, India) who taught me the first lesson in research and infused in me the enthusiasm and fervour in arbuscular mycorrhizal studies and their identification in particular.

A grateful acknowledgement is also due to Prof. Saeed A. Siddiqui, Chairman, Department of Botany, A.M.U., Aligarh for providing necessary laboratory and library facilities.

I am deeply indebted to Prof. M. Wajid Khan, Department of Botany, A.M.U., Aligarh for his critical suggestion throughout the preparation of thesis.

I also feel indebted to Prof. A.K.M. Ghouse, Department of Botany, A.M.U., Aligarh, who enlightened me with his expert advise, throughout the period of writing this thesis.

I also thank and appreciate the assistance rendered to me in multifarious ways by Dr. Abrar A. Khan, Dr. Zaki A. Siddiqui, (Lecturers), Dr. Kamal Singh (Research-Associate), Masood Aziz (Senior Librarian), Department of Botany, A.M.U., Aligarh.

Thanks are also due to my friends and mentors especially Mr. Anis Mohd, Badshah Khan, Abrar Ahmad, Rafiullah Siddiqui, Mujeebur-Ur-Rehman, Mohd Ayoub and Shahnawaz for their kind help and cooperation. I am also thankful to Mr. G.A. Subramanian for data analysis and clean typing work.

I place on record my heartfelt thanks to my laboratory colleagues Miss. Archana Gautam for her willing cooperation.

The financial assistance rendered by the University in the form of research fellowship is gratefully acknowledged.

I am indebted to my parents, sisters and brother for their forbearance, support and constant motivation for higher studies.
