Dedicated to the Noble Cause of Education

Since ages, man has been an explorer. Modern age is an age of inventions and discoveries. This age is also characterized by increasing turbulence and materialistic tendencies. It, therefore, becomes pertinent to create centers of education for the citizens and nations of tomorrow so that knowledge does not become a problem but a solution to many problems of present day life. Pondering over all such issues, I choose the topic for my study “Creating and Sustaining Excellence in Schools: A Management Perspective”. With the Almighty’s blessings, I have attempted to undertake the study to the best of my abilities.

To start with, I thank All India Management Association (AIMA), N. Delhi for conceiving an innovative doctoral program for working executives. Their efforts in spreading and professing management education and research are creditworthy. Their collaboration with the prestigious Aligarh Muslim University (AMU), Aligarh has made the Executive Doctorate Program even more credible. I extend my deepest gratitude to AIMA and AMU for fulfilling a vital need.

This study has been guided and supervised by Dr. Parvaiz Talib, Reader, Department of Business Administration, Faculty of Management Studies & Research, AMU, Aligarh. The glimpses of his fine caliber are manifest through the thesis. I received his generous and selfless guidance throughout the research period. Whenever I faced a problem, he was there to encourage and support me with his repertoire knowledge. His serenity, command over the subject and mode of analyzing concepts has impressed me a lot. This study is jointly supervised by Dr. R.N. Singh Solanki, Principal, Kuber Inter College, Dibai, Bulandshahr. His cooperation and pieces of advice at various stages of research enhanced the worth of this effort.

For this study, I visited a number of reputed and established schools of India. I am deeply grateful to Mr. Sunil Handa, Chairman, Eklavya School, Ahmedabad, Mrs. Bharti Gandhi and Mr. Jagdish Gandhi, Managers, City Montessori School, Lucknow, Mr. Pramod Kumar, Principal, Mayo College, Ajmer, Dr. Ashok K. Chauhan, Founder, Amity Universe and Mrs. Mohina Dar, Amity International School, Noida and Mr. V.J. George Kulangara, Director, Labour India Gurukulam Public School, Kottayam for their cooperation. Their active involvement was a great help in collection of primary data. I am also grateful to the staff members of these schools for their cooperation.

I am obliged to Prof. Javaid Akhter, Dean, Faculty of Management Studies & Research (FMS&R), AMU and Former Deans- Prof. Azhar Kazmi, Prof. S.M. Ozair and Prof. Kaleem M. Khan for their constant encouragement.

I am highly indebted to the librarians and staff of NASSDOC-ICSSR, N.Delhi, Seminar library of Department of Business Administration, AMU and Department of Education (AMU), Maulana Azad Central Library, AMU, Ratan Tata Library, Delhi School of Economics and library of Department of Education, Delhi University for arranging study material from time to time. My research work would not have seen the light of the day without the cooperation of the staff members and students of my organization, Rajni Public
Senior Secondary School, Dibai. The School's library was a great help in gathering relevant secondary data.

Thanks are due to all my teachers for their contribution in shaping my personality. I also thank all my friends and well-wishers who kept exhorting me to look ahead. I express my gratitude to Mr. Mehdi Imam, General Manager, P & IR, NPCIL, Mumbai, Mr. Fazal Qadri, AMU and Dr. Salma Ahmad, Reader, Department of Business Administration (AMU) for being a source of strength and inspiration to me. Their sincere advice and suggestions helped me progress forward.

The emotional and social support of my mother Mrs. Rajni Singh, father Dr. S.C. Singh, sisters Mrs. Anubha Gadodia, Dr. Vibha Bansal, Dr. Shweta Bansal and Dr. Rupam Bala, brothers-in-law Dr. Anil Gadodia, Dr. Siddhartha Gaur, Dr. Ajay Garg, nieces Amishi, Sherry and Mansi and nephew Vaibhav kept my morale high at all stages of this arduous task. The patience and quiet disposition of my seven-month old son, Gaurang, proved conducive towards the final stages of the study. My friend Dr. Kalpana Gupta was a source of encouragement althrough. Her constant support during the study is my true treasure. I also wish to thank all others related to me for having encouraged me in this pursuit.
