Acknowledgment

First of all, I owe many thanks to Almighty God, for giving me strength and patience in all the difficulties during the process of completing this work.

I must express my sincere thanks to my supervisor Dr. Mohammad Israrul Haque, for his continuous interest, personal guidance and encouragement and moral support during my stay at AMU, Aligarh.

I am thankful to Prof. Javaid Akhter, Department of Business Administration, AMU, for his advice and valuable suggestion in all aspects during my stay here. I also tank all the faculty members and staffs for their concern and cooperation in providing materials in this work.

All my friends at Jimma University, Ethiopia, Ethiopian students in Aligarh, and research scholars at Department of Business Administration, AMU, deserves my best compliment and gratitude for taking care of my family, encouragement and sympathetic cooperation in many ways respectively.

I am most appreciative of all the people in Ethiopian banks, Indian banks and other institutions who showed me interest and support in providing the required data for the research.

My deepest thanks go to my parents whose affection, blessing and faith in my cause can never be compensated.

Finally, I express my overriding debt to my wife Enanu Tizazu and my sons Lealem Shimels and Kidus Shimels who contributed for the study in many ways. Without their patience in tolerating the difficulties of life in my absence, and my wife’s strength to shoulder the responsibility of family with her continuous encouragement and moral support, this work would have not been possible. This thesis is gratefully dedicated to them.
