The task of going ahead with the present study and completing it successfully seemed impossible and endless had it not been for the intellectual stimulation, guidance and encouragement provided by my supervisor Dr. Mohammed Naved Khan. So I find it apt to start my Acknowledgement by expressing my deep sense of gratitude to him for suggesting the topic, providing expert advice, meticulous methodology, patient discussion, valuable suggestions, moral support and constructive criticism. Needless to say that, without his active participation, it would not have been possible to accomplish the job.

I am extremely grateful to the former chairman, Prof. Kaleem Mohammed Khan and the present chairman of the Department of Administration, Prof. Javed Akhtar, for providing not only infrastructural support and library facilities but also an environment conducive to academic pursuits.

It would be unfair on my part if I do not acknowledge the massive help and support I received from Dr. Mah Seema Masood, Director, Center of Continuing Adult Education and Extension, AMU, Aligarh and her dedicated staff including Ms. Asma Khatoon who helped me identifying the villages and more importantly Mr. Taiyab Hussain, Mr. Javed Alam and the enthusiastic field workers Ms. Sushila, Ms. Nazma and Ms. Urmila who accompanied me throughout the survey and helped me building a rapport with the villagers. It was a Herculean task and I am extremely grateful to the entire team of the Center for joining me in my pursuit and keeping my morale high.

Compilation of a huge mass of data and its analysis has always been a difficult proposition in such studies and I am extremely thankful to Dr. Daud S. Farooqui for extending the much needed help in accomplishing this task of the study.
I am thankful to Ms. Feza T. Azmi for the encouragement and moral support extended to me during the final stages of the work, which rekindled the desire in me to expedite the submission of this thesis.

I express my gratitude to Dr. Parvaiz Talib for his suggestions and highly constructive comments.

I also thank members of library staff of Ratan Tata Library, Delhi University, Maulana Azad Library, AMU, Aligarh, JNU library and NCAER, New Delhi for providing access to the literature.

Finally, my husband, Kausar, parents, in-laws and other family members have been most understanding and supportive during the course of my research project; I truly appreciate their patience and much needed love.
