Acknowledgements

It would not have been possible to complete this research without the support of many people.

I am greatly indebted to my internal advisor Dr. Bilal Mustafa Khan, Assistant Professor, Aligarh Muslim University without whose guidance and support, I would not have completed this research. His guidance and advice at some critical points of my research were invaluable.

I thank Dr. Mohd. Nishat Faisal, Department of Business Administration, Aligarh Muslim University, for giving the initial direction to my research. I would like to thank my external advisor Dr. Manoj K Jha, Professor Associate, National Institute of Industrial Engineering, whose guidance during the whole research process was very timely and helpful.

I am also grateful to Dr. Sajeev Abraham George, Associate Professor, S. P. Jain Institute of Management and Research & Dr. K. Ganesh, Senior Consultant, Global Business Services, IBM India Pvt. Ltd. for their guidance and advice. They gave me many ideas and offered comments on my study in different perspectives.

I would like to thank my colleague Mr. Debasish Roy for his help in my research. His advice and involvement in the project was of immense help and I am grateful to him.

I am thankful to my colleague Mr. Pravin Bali for his secretarial help in preparation of the thesis. He was always available whenever required.

I thank my wife and daughters who were source of inspiration to me in completing the project.
