Acknowledgements

First of all I sincerely thank God Almighty for showering his blessings, and giving me the strength and courage to overcome the difficulties for having helped me to complete the study successfully.

I owe my sincere thanks to all the Manipal University officials for their continuing support and encouragement.

The present study could never have been successfully completed without the expert guidance of my research supervisors. I acknowledge my deep sense of gratitude to my research advisor Dr. Shreemathi S Mayya, for her able guidance, remarkable patience, constant support, motivation, assistance at every single step and encouragement throughout my thesis work. Madam, I sincerely appreciate and acknowledge the time and efforts you have taken in guiding me for the completion of this project.

I am grateful to my co guide Dr. Bairy KL, Professor & HOD, Department of Pharmacology, KMC, Manipal for his constant guidance, direction, support and encouragement towards this study. His subject expertise and excellence in research has shaped my work.

My appreciation to my Dean Dr. Anice George, for her constant support and pressure in completing my project. Her timely help and suggestions have made this project a dream come true.
I sincerely thank Dr. Manu Mohan K, Assistant Professor, Department of Respiratory Medicine, Kasturba hospital, Manipal for his constant support, guidance and total involvement in the teaching learning activities of this project. I am also grateful to him for having consented to be the members of my Doctoral Scrutiny Committee and have given valuable insight through this process.

My heartfelt gratitude to Dr. A. Krishna Rao, former dean and professor Emeritus, of the department of Physiology who is a role model in the field of medicine and education. His novel ideas, untiring efforts, and his humble heart has motivated me to be a constant learner. His untiring help, guidance and suggestions given to me during the initial teaching learning phase has helped me to understand the core of students’ learning attitude.

My regards and appreciation for Dr. HN Udupa, Principal MCOPS, Manipal University, Manipal for having given me an opportunity to do an interdisciplinary research.

My sincere thanks to all my validators, Dr. Raviraj Acharya, Dr. Sudha Vidyasagar, Dr. Aswini Mahaputra, Dr. Manu Mohan K, Professor Abanti Gopan for their willingness and support for being an expert during the content validation process.

My regards and appreciation for Professor PP Bhanumathi for her constant support and encouragement during my entire project. Her motherly concern has made me feel humble and encouraged at times of difficulties during this project. Her words of comfort and affection made my heavy heart lighter and moments of blues felt better.

I can never forget the untiring contributions of Mrs. Melita, Latha, Sheila, Krishnaendhu, Sr. Bobby Sindhu, Selma, Maya, and Aparna during the crucial phase of teaching learning process of this project. I also thank Mrs. Shambhalatha and Vijya for being so patient in participating in the study.

I acknowledge the contributions of every faculty member of MCON, in big or small for their timely help.

My gratitude to Dr. Ratna Prakash and Dr. Chandrasekharan for their support and understanding during my data collection work.

My deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Nagendra Prakash, Dr. Mamatha S.Pai and Dr. Christopher Sudhakar for their constant encouragement to complete my project.

My heartfelt gratitude to all the teachers of MV Shetty and Alvas college of nursing for being a constant support as observers during the data collection process.

I thank the nursing students who participated during the data collection. Their enthusiasm and willingness to participate in this project have made a difference in my life.

My sincere thanks to Anil, Department of A V aids for his fine work of videoing and editing the procedures.
My special thanks to Mr. Suresh N. MCOAHS, for his meticulous handiwork in his typing and logistics in shaping the project work in a very presentable form.

I am indebted to Dr. Ashok Rao, Mrs. Anuradha Rao, Professor Vasudeva Rao and Mrs. Sunanda Rao for their untiring support towards my completion of this project. Their mental support and prayers were guiding force towards my completion.

Sincere appreciation to Mr. Anil TM. research scholar MCOPS, Manipal for his help and guidance.

My love and appreciation to all my brothers, sisters, niece and nephews who encouraged me from time to time.

Finally, I sincerely owe this success to my beloved parents who inspired and enkindled my life with the principle of hand work and sincerity to one’s task. My love and gratitude to them for having constantly poured all their energy and prayers for me from above. I have only my folded hands to thank them for what they are to me and in my career as a professional.

Elsa Sanatombi Devi