BIBLIOGRAPHY

BOOKS

Berndt, T.J., & Keefe, K. (1992). Friends’ influence on adolescents’ perceptions of themselves at school. In D.H. Schunk & J.L. Meece (Eds.) Student perceptions

Prentice Hall of India Pvt. Ltd.

New York: Cambridge University Press.

University, Montgomery: School of Education.

Company. Inc.

Good, V. Carter et al. (1935). Methodology of educational research. New York:
Appleton Century Crafts Inc.

Kindermann, T.A., McCollam, T.L., & Gibson, E. Jr. (1996). Peer networks and students’ classroom engagement during childhood and adolescence. In international research and practice. Cambridge, UK: Cambridge University Press.

JOURNALS

COMMISSION REPORTS AND PAPERS

Parker, J.D.A et al. (2002). Emotional Intelligence and Academic Success: Examining the transition from high school to University. Manuscript submitted for Publication, Quebec: Quebec city.

DISSEPTION ABSTRACTS

Washington, Sharon T. (2007). The development of internal controls and social emotional literary skills for students with emotional disturbances by applications of emotional intelligence. DAI-A 68/06, p.2328, December 2007
