ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is contentment undeniably to have this occasion to liberate the experience of gratefulness captivated in my heart to different peoples who has showered their blessings, which has supported and guided me to shape up the present research and formulated it for flourishing.

In finishing point of this present study, I believe immense wisdom of gratefulness to my revered and renowned research guide, Dr. Vijay D. Kulkarni, Director of Aaditya Institute of Management, Pune whose continuous and scrupulous supervision, support have been of massive significance to me in transmitting out the present study. Dr. Vijay D. Kulkarni is a soft spoken, practical person and been very supportive during the entire research tenure. He has extended great level of encouragement and inspiration is recognizable for lifetime.

I am appreciative to the Dr. Mahendra Singh Rajput, Dr. Surendra Kumar and Dr. Rajendra Singh my Ph. D Co-coordinators at JJT University, Rajasthan, whom I always looked upon for inspiration in difficult times during the research work and both has endow with a friendly and approachable background to outline this research work.

I am deeply in-obliged to my employer Barclays Technology Centre India Private Limited, Mr. Lyndon Coppin (Director, Head of Legal – Ops. & Tech.) And Mr. Kiran Chitale (Vice President and Head of Legal BTCI) for permitting me for the research work and extending their required and timely support for the research related activities.

I have enormous satisfaction in acknowledging my thankfulness to my friends Mr. Sourabh Gandhi and Mr. Jitendra Thakur, for their precious support, which made me feasible gathering Literature Review and fruitful achievement of this research work.

I am appreciative to all the respondents (working with Governance Control and Legal function) in the IT/ ITES in companies based in Pune. Respondents took their initiative in responding the questionnaire in spite of their hectic calendar and their precious contributions in the form of propositions in the resent research.
I specially thank Prof. Pankaj Gangwal, for precious facilitation throughout the progression of data analysis and also for their precious contributions in the form of interpretation in the present research work.

My sincere gratitude goes to Dr. Kachava, Mr. Ajit, and Dr. Om Prakash, faculty members of JJT University, Rajasthan who supported me in the different junctures of the research work with their experience and constructive appreciation.

It would be not appropriate in-case I do not acknowledge the involvement of family members, My Father Mr. Sharad Chatur, my mother Mrs. Alka Chatur, my wife Mrs. Pallavi Chatur and last but not the least my little angel Ms. Sanavi Chatur. I am very thankful to all of them for their inspiring proficiencies together with modernization which facilitated me in compacting with the difficulties on and off the research work and for offering joyful support and collaboration whenever needed.

I am happy to testimony that colleagues with whom I have worked with were always been a foundation of encouragement to me in my academic field and take this occasion to thank them all for the love and affection they showered on me.

Above all, I would like to admire the aristocrat without whose indistinguishable hand above my head, I am nothing at all.

Swapnil Sharad Chatur