A Selected Bibliography

Primary Sources

Secondary Sources

Altbach, Philip G. “Education and Neocolonialism.”
Ashcroft, Griffiths and Tiffin, The Post-colonial Studies Reader 452-56.

Lovesey, Oliver. "Writing the Female Subject: Ngugi wa Thiong'o's Post-colonial Discourse." World Literature Written in English 32.2 and 33.1 (1992-93): 151-60.

---. "Moving the Centre: Towards a Pluralism of Cultures."

---. "National Identity and Imperialist Domination: The Crisis of Culture in Africa Today." A Sense of Place:
Essays in Post-colonial Literatures. Ed. Britta
167-76.

---. Secret Lives and Other Stories. 1975. London:
Heinemann, 1992.

---. "The Language of African Literature." Ashcroft,
Griffins, Tiffin, Post-colonial Studies Reader 285-90.

---. "The Tension Between National and Imperialistic Culture." World Literature Written in English 24.1

---. "The Writer in a Neocolonial State." The Black

Ngugi, wa Thiong’o and Micere Githae Mugo. The Trial of Nkosi, Lewis. Home and Exile and Other Selections.

Nnolim, Charles E. "Dialectic as Form: Pejorism in the Novels of Armah." African Literature Today 10

Nwahunanya, Chinyere. "A Vision of the Ideal: Armah’s Two Thousand Seasons." Modern Fiction Studies 37.3

