Acknowledgement

God governs the world and we have only to do our duty wisely and leave the issue to Him. God, who has planned for me this long journey, would not have even moved an inch forward without the help of the providence. My devote towards “Maa Santoshi” & “Sri Sai Baba” as they have shown me the path, offered ample challenges to make me strong mentally, introduced me to failures to taste the sweetness of success. They have kept me going despite all adversities and with their innumerable blessings. I am able to convert my dream of completing a research in the field of Commerce into a reality. I can just pray to them and seek their blessings in all the things I do.

Finally this Book is devoted in loving memory of my father Late Shri S.V. Satya Narayana who wants me a Medical Doctor. I am glad to fulfill as Ph.D. Doctor for my father dream. As we advance in life we learn the limits of our abilities. I wan born ordinary but it is because of my parents that I would be able to add feathers of success to my cap. It is because of their upbringing, their early lessons, their scolding. I thank God for giving me such parents and I am too mortal to say thanks to my parents. I can just seek their blessings for year to come.

I am blessed to have one such mind behind Research. Dr. Mukund Ram Chandrakar is a God send Supervisor to me. He is a Teacher, Philosopher and Guide to me. His foresightedness, his depth of Knowledge, his ability to teach-everything helped me to complete my research. Right from the time of choosing the topic, till the completion of this research, he offered his expertise to me, despite his own professional and personal involvement. He never let me down and to work under his able guidance itself is a huge learning experience for me.

My heartfelt gratitude towards Dr. Ashok Kumar Parakh, Co-supervisor, Chairman Private Universities Regulatory Commission, Raipur (C.G.), for his valuable and expert advice regarding this research work.

I offer my special thanks to the Prof. C.P. Mishra, Principal, Durga Mahavidyalaya, for his support and who has granted me permission to choose this prestigious institution as my Research Centre.

Research in Plywood Industry involves lot of field work, interaction with Industrial people, collection data of plywood industry and other related tasks. I sincerely thanks to plywood manufacturer of Raipur Division for their support specially to M/s. Swastik Panels & Ajanta Wood Products to generously extend their support and lending me move freely in their organization to collect important data and vital information for my research.

For a project to see its day it need a proper environment and that kind of conductive environment I got in my work place Maharaja Agrasen International College. Being a reputed institution it has always thrived on the theory of achieving the best through relentless efforts. I offer my sincere thanks to Dr. Samir Thakur, Principal to extend their support in completion of this research. It is because of his motivation and encouragement that I have taken up this project and have successfully completed it.

Working with some very experienced, senior colleagues has proved a great help for me. I thank to Dr. Samir Thakur, Prof. Jayesh Karia and Manindra Bhise in supporting me directly or indirectly in completing my research. My sincere thanks to every word of encouragement they spoke, for the extended helping hand in times of trouble and the kind of mental support that they spoke, for the extended helping hand in times of trouble and the kind of metal support that they have provided.

There are people and there are friends. God made our friends to share our feelings. I am blessed to have a friend like Ravi Singhal, Ajay Jetwa they have been my shoulder all through my project. They have guided me, scolded me, laughed with me, and wept with me. Without their support I would have never been able to complete this research.

I extend my sense of gratitude to all the members of my family. Specially to my mother Smt. S.V. Laxmi. Every one in the family extended their share of support and encouraged me in bringing this project to the present shape. Let the blessing of elders should continue to shower on us for ever. A special note of thanks to my brother S. Srinivas Ramu, Suryaprakash who wants me to contribute in Plywood Organisation was their dream so I am glad to make a research on this industry to complete their dream. My special thank also to my sister S. Sridevi for her encouragement and blessing.

Any number of words of thanks for S. Sunita, my wife will fall short because without her support I would have never been where I am. Despite busy in her House work she extended every bit of support that was possible in his part to help me out in completing my research. I am happy that I have done this for her. I thank her for being my best half.

My daughter Sanjana and all children of my family need a special mention in this acknowledgment, for it is their support that I am able to complete my research despite working full time both in home and in professional work. They had to at times bear an enforced exile due to my studies and I thank them for bearing all these hardships. A Million thanks to my children and family.

I thank to Mr. Rakesh Agrawal (Sulochna offset), Bhilai.

I am thankful to M/s. Law Book Binder for providing me documentation services.

This acknowledgement would go on and on still there would be so many left to thank. If I have forgotten any one, it is not deliberate but due to my short memory. I offer my sincere thanks to every one.
