While acknowledging the guidance and help from scholars and others, first of all, I deem it my privilege to pay my profound respect to Professor R.C. Majumdar, the renowned Indologist and Archaeologist, who has very kindly initiated me to the study of ancient Indian history, culture and archaeology. Whatever little knowledge I could gain in the realm of archaeological research, it is all due to my preceptor's care and guidance so affectionately bestowed on me throughout these dark years of my learning career at his feet. I have utilized in this work, the personal collection, reference books, and notes, Majumdar's own publications on Vaisala, with a great profit and interest. I shall be ever grateful to him for his kindness and blessings.

I take this opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Mahabir Prasad, former Reader Professor and Head of the Department of Indian History, Culture and Archaeology and Dean, Faculty of Social Sciences, Doctor Harisingha Shastri, Viswa-Vidyapeeth, etc., for their able guidance and constant encouragement. This research work has been completed. I am much indebted to him for taking keen interest in completion of the work.

I am extremely grateful to Professor (Dr.) N.V. Singh (now in the Kurukshetra University) for whose scholarly directions, I had worked at the various exploration and excavation projects conducted by this Department, since the year 1960-61. As a result of his good wishes and inspirations, I could gathered some knowledge in the field of archaeology.

I have fruitfully utilized the pioneer works of late Sri Mahanar Dwawas Swivedi(Osawari), late Sri M.S.Khurana(New Delhi) and late Dr. V.G. Vaidya(Ujjain). I pray to the magnanimity, for the peace of the departed souls. They have largely contributed to the cultural heritage of the Malwa region and devoted their whole life to reveal the Indian culture. The scholarly world will ever remain indebted to these scholars for their contribution in the field of Indian history, culture & archaeology.

I have also incorporated the scholarly work of Dr. Patil ('Malwa: A Province of Ancient India'); S.Shinde('Annual Essays on Malwa, Department of Archaeology'); Maj.J.B. Jain('On Malwa and Malwa History', etc.); and Maj. J.B. Jain('Malwa Through History'); Prof. S. Shinde('The Earliest Usurping Kings of Malwa'); S. Shinde('Malwa in the Medieval Period'); Dr. Pratipal Jain('The Pandavas'); and the works of several other prominent scholars, as mentioned in the references at the end of each chapter. I also in the autobiography. I express my grateful sense to all those scholars, to whom I have consulted from time to time for the completion of this work.

This research work has been undertaken with some financial assistance given to me by the Indian Council of Historical Research, 35, Anusandhan Bodh, New Delhi, under the 'Study-Cum-Travel Grant Scheme.'
The authorities of the American Institute of Indian Studies (Centre for Art and Archaeology), Vārānasī, have kindly supplied me free of cost, 39 quarter size photographs (with five copies each) of the selected sculptures and monuments etc. of Vidiśā district, to illustrate this work. I express my grateful thanks to both the institutions for giving me timely help.

I express my best regards to Sri S.D. Misra, our present Head of the Department, who has very kindly provided me all necessary research facilities available in the Department.

My sincere thanks are due to Dr. S.K. Pandey, Dr. S.N. Manwani, Dr. V.D. Jha, Dr. R.N. Agrawala, Dr. S.K. Bajpai, Dr. S.R. Dube and Kā. Padmaja Dīxit and each and every member of the staff in the Department of Ancient Indian History, Culture and Archaeology, Dr. Harisingh Gour Vishva Vidyalaya, Sagar, for their good-wishes, encouragements and the valuable discussions with them on the various problems related to this work.

My sincere thanks are also due the Librarian and staff of the Jawaharlal Nehru Library, Vishva Vidyalaya, Sagar for giving me necessary help in consultation of the reference books available in the University Library.

I also thank to the Curators of the State Archaeological Museums at Vidiśā and Gwalior, and the Central Archaeological Museum, Sāāchī, for giving me facilities to study the archaeological antiquities displayed in the Museums.
Finally, a word of personal appreciation goes to each and every one of my friends, especially to Sarvashri N.P. Dubey, Dr. O.P. Misra, B.K. Sohare, R.N. Shukla, P.K. Shukla and Rama Choudhary, who helped me in the preparation of this work.

Lastly, I do not find the appropriate words to express my blessings to my eldest son, Jitendra; to my daughter-in-law, Smt. Kalpana, who have provided me all necessary comforts and relieved me free from the domestic responsibilities for doing this research work.

I also express my deep love to my daughter, Ms. Sapana, who has normally not disturbed me in my research work. She has always shown keen interest to know the progress of completing the "chapters". Probably, her anxiety to this was solely to find out some time with me talking and discussing, which otherwise she could not have got since long.

Sagar (M.P.)

Dated: September 3, 1983

(K. K. Tripathi)